8 JAMES ANTHONY WILLIAMS,

9 Plaintiff,

10 v.

11 BRUCE C GAGE, et al.,

12 Defendants.

Case No. C18-0218-JCC-MAT

ORDER

14 This is a 42 U.S.C. § 1983 prisoner civil rights action. Plaintiff has filed two motions that 15 request injunctive relief, partial summary judgment, appointment of counsel, copies of court 16 documents, and extensions of court deadlines. (Dkts. 76, 77; see also Dkt. 79.) Defendants have 17 filed a response. (Dkt. 78.) Having considered the parties' submissions, the balance of the record, 18 and the governing law, the Court finds and ORDERS:

19 (1) Plaintiff's primary complaint is that defendants have refused to grant him access to 20 his legal materials. The Court DEFERS RULING on plaintiff's motion for injunctive relief 21 pending additional briefing from the parties. The Court is concerned by plaintiff's claim that 22 defendants are withholding his legal materials, including an amended complaint he drafted to file
23 in this action. Accordingly, by September 27, 2019, defendants shall file a supplemental response

1 that addresses (a) the location of all of plaintiff's legal property held by the DOC, (b) the 2 amount/types of legal property that is held at each location, (c) the formal efforts plaintiff has made 3 to acquire his legal property, (d) the reasons plaintiff's requests have been denied, and (e) any 4 further steps plaintiff must take to acquire his property through DOC channels. Plaintiff may file
5 a supplemental reply by October 18, 2019.

6 (2) The Court also DEFERS RULING on plaintiff's motion for partial summary 7 judgment.

8 (3) Plaintiff asks the Court to appoint counsel because defendants have interfered with 9 his ability to litigate this case by withholding his legal materials. Generally, a person has no right 10 to counsel in a civil action. See Campbell v. Burt, 141 F.3d 927, 931 (9th Cir. 1998). In certain 11 "exceptional circumstances," the Court may request the voluntary assistance of counsel for 12 indigent civil litigants under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(1). Agyeman v. Corrections Corp. of Am., 390
13 F.3d 1101, 1103 (9th Cir. 2004). When determining whether "exceptional circumstances" exist, 14 the Court considers "the likelihood of success on the merits as well as the ability of the [plaintiff]
15 to articulate his claims pro se in light of the complexity of the legal issues involved." Weygant
16 v. Look, 718 F.2d 952, 954 (9th Cir. 1983). Neither factor is dispositive, and they must be viewed 17 together before reaching a decision on a request for counsel. Id.

18 Plaintiff has not established exceptional circumstances at this time. He does not address 19 the likelihood of success on the merits of his claim, and although he has had trouble accessing his 20 legal materials, he appears able to articulate his complaints pro se given that the legal issues are 21 not particularly complex. Accordingly, the Court DENIES his request for appointment of counsel 22 without prejudice.

1 (4) Plaintiff asks the Court to provide the names and case numbers for all the lawsuits
2 he has filed since June 2009. He also asks the Court to provide him with copies of all the 3 complaints and evidence he submitted in these cases. Finally, he asks the Court to provide him 4 with copies of his two pending motions because the law librarian refused his request to e-file them
5 and thus he was forced to mail his only copies to the Court. Given the apparent problems plaintiff 6 has had with e-filing, the Court GRANTS his request for courtesy copies of his motions. The 7 Court also GRANTS his request for a courtesy copy of a list of case names and numbers. If 8 plaintiff would like any additional court records, however, he must pre-pay, at a rate of $0.50 per 9 page, for the number of pages he requests. He may direct requests for specific documents to the 10 Clerk's office. The Clerk's office will inform him of the total charge for the pages and mail the 11 requested documents after plaintiff submits payment.

12 (5) Finally, plaintiff asks the Court to extend the deadlines for him to file a motion for 13 leave to amend, for discovery, and for dispositive motions. Defendants do not oppose these 14 requests. Accordingly, the Court establishes the following deadlines:

15 Deadline for plaintiff to file a motion for leave to amend complaint: November 1, 2019

16 Deadline for discovery: January 31, 2020

17 Deadline for dispositive motions: March 6, 2020

18 Any party seeking to extend these deadlines must show good cause.

19 (6) The Clerk is directed to RE-NOTE plaintiff's motions for injunctive relief and 20 partial summary judgment (Dkts. 76, 77) for October 18, 2019.

21 (7) The Clerk is directed to send copies of this order to the parties and to the Honorable 22 John C. Coughenour. The Clerk also is directed to send plaintiff courtesy copies of his motions 23

1 (Dkts. 76, 77) and a list of case names and numbers that he has filed in this District since June 2 2009.

3 Dated this 5th day of September, 2019.
