I. INTRODUCTION

Before the Court are the consolidated actions of hundreds of businesses from across Western Washington State who have turned to their insurance policies to cover lost income stemming from the COVID-19 pandemic. In response to the numerous cases being filed, and the commonality of their claims, this District assigned all such matters to the undersigned, who ordered consolidation and coordinated briefing on dispositive motions.

While the Court is sympathetic to the plight of businesses in this difficult time, today it joins the majority of those courts around the country who have addressed similar claims and finds that the businesses in question are not entitled to coverage under their insurance policies. Like the overwhelming consensus that has formed, this Court determines that COVID-19 does not cause the physical loss or damage to property required as a condition precedent to trigger coverage in all the relevant policies. As such, the Court will grant the motions for dismissal before it in accordance with the following.<sup>1</sup>

II. BACKGROUND

A. COVID-19

COVID-19 is a viral illness that has reached pandemic proportions throughout the world. See Covid-19, CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL AND PREVENTION,

<sup>1</sup> Many of the Parties have requested oral argument. The Court determines that oral argument is unnecessary to resolve the motions and will, therefore, deny the requests. See Local Rules W.D. Wash. LCR 7(b)(4) (“Unless otherwise ordered by the court, all motions will be decided by the court without oral argument.”).

2 Washington State, the Governor responded to the pandemic caused by COVID-19’s spread by 3 issuing a series of Proclamations declaring a state of emergency and severely limiting, or closing,
4 businesses, schools, and public gatherings. See Proclamations, OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR OF 5 WASHINGTON, <https://www.governor.wa.gov/office-governor/official-actions/proclamations> (last

<sup>2</sup> The Court may “take judicial notice of the undisputed and publicly available information displayed on government websites.” King v. County of Los Angeles, 885 F.3d 548, 555 (9th Cir. 2018).

1 Fireman’s Fund Ins. Co., 21-cv-00373 (Seattle).

2 In response to severe limitations on their operations, many businesses turned to their 3 insurance policies to recover lost wages and reduced income. This is a common story across the 4 country as similar governmental restrictions designed to prevent the spread of the disease
5 constricted access to every form of operation. Near uniformly, insurance companies denied the 6 claims.

7 B. The Structure of the Policies

8 The structure of the insurance policies at issue in these cases is such that their 9 commonalities permit the Court to address the underlying questions raised by this litigation in an 10 inclusive ruling.

11 The insurance policies issued to the businesses bringing suit before this Court are of a type 12 referred to as “all-risk” policies, in that that they insure against all risks, as compared to specific,
13 enumerated risks. See, e.g., C. H. Leavell & Co. v. Fireman’s Fund Ins. Co., 372 F.2d 784, 787
14 (9th Cir. 1967) (“An ‘all risks’ policy creates a special type of coverage extending to risks not 15 usually covered under other insurance, and recovery under an ‘all risk’ policy will be allowed for 16 all fortuitous losses . . . unless the policy contains a specific provision expressly excluding the loss
17 from coverage.”); Vision One, LLC v. Phila. Indem. Ins. Co., 276 P.3d 300, 306 (Wash. 2012)
18 (internal quotation and citation omitted) (“All-risk policies . . . provide coverage for all risks unless 19 the specific risk is excluded.”); see also Nature and Scope of Coverage, 10A Couch on Ins. §
20 148:50 (3d ed. 2020). All-risk policies, especially the ones before the Court, rely on three general 21 types of provisions to establish what perils the policy does, and does not, cover.
25

1                   1. General Coverage Provisions

2                   The first is a general coverage provision, which establishes a condition precedent to trigger
3 coverage in the first instance. In the all-risk business insurance policies before the Court, the 4 trigger is some derivation of the term “direct physical loss of or damage to” the property covered 5 by the policy.

6                   For example, the insurance policy covering Dr. Carlos O. Caballero, who owns and 7 operates Master Orthodontics in Bremerton, Washington, states that

8                   We [i.e., the insurance company] will pay for the actual loss of Business Income 9 you [i.e., the business] sustain due to the necessary “suspension” of your 10 “operations” during the “period of restoration.” The “suspension” must be caused 11 by direct physical loss of or damage to a described premises shown in the 12 Declarations and for which a Business Income Limit of Insurance is shown in the 13 Declarations.

14 Caballero, Decl. of John A. Bennett, Ex. 1, No. 20-cv-05437, Dkt. No. 57 at 66<sup>3</sup> (Policy 15 of Carlos O. Caballero DDS, MS, PS, “Caballero Policy”) (emphasis added).

16                   Based on this clause, the policy provides coverage for lost Business Income, which is 17 defined and elaborated elsewhere in the policy, but only where a “direct physical loss of or damage 18 to” the property covered by the policy has occurred.

19                   Not all of the relevant policies use this exact construction. For example, the policy of Dr.
20 Wade K. Marler DDS, who operates a family dentistry practice in Covington, Washington, states 21 that “[w]e will pay for all direct physical damage to covered property at the premises described on 22 the Declarations caused by or resulting from any covered cause of loss.” Marler v. Aspen Am. Ins.

25 <sup>3</sup> As the policies at issue in this case use inconsistent numbering conventions, the Court will consistently refer to the page number derived from the file uploaded to the Court’s Case Management/Electronic Case Files system.

1 Co., Decl. of Robin Wechkin, Ex. A, No. 20-cv-00616, Dkt. No. 51-1 at 8 (“Marler Policy”). The 2 Policy defines “covered cause of loss” as “ALL RISK OF DIRECT PHYSICAL LOSS . . .” Id.
3 at 25 (emphasis in original). Thus, while the Policy does not use the exact phrase “direct physical 4 loss of or damage to,” as contained in Dr. Caballero’s policy, Dr. Marler’s policy incorporates the 5 same requirements of “direct” “physical” “loss” or “damage.” All policies in this litigation tie
6 coverage to direct physical loss or damage.

8 2. Extension Provisions

9 The second type of provision is an extension provision. Generally, extension provisions
10 operate so as to either define the benefits an insured is entitled to once coverage has been triggered 11 or to provide additional benefits beyond those covered, so long as coverage is triggered in the first 12 instance and the requirements of the extension are met. The commonality between these two types
13 of extensions is that they extend benefits once the condition precedent of the general coverage
14 provision has been fulfilled. For an example of the former, extension provisions such as Extra
15 Expense or Extended Business Income usually appear in close proximity to a general coverage 16 provision and define the types of losses covered in case of a covered loss, as exemplified by the 17 following from the policy of Stan’s Bar-B-Q in Issaquah, Washington:

19 b. Extra Expense

20 (1) Extra Expense means reasonable and necessary expenses you incur during the 21 “period of restoration” that you would not have incurred if there had been no direct
22 physical loss of or damage to property caused by or resulting from a Covered Cause 23 of Loss.

24 Nguyen v. Travelers Cas. Ins. Co. of Am., Defs.’ Revised Mot. to Dismiss the Consolidated
25 Am. Class Action Compl., Ex. F., No. 20-cv-00597, Dkt. No. 53-6 at 20 (“Stan’s Bar-B-Q Policy”).

The latter type of extension provision provides additional criteria which must be met before

1 its benefits are available. A common example of this type of extension is a Civil Authority
2 provision, as exemplified by the following, also from the policy of Stan's Bar-B-Q:

3 G. Civil Authority

4 (1) When the Declarations show that you have coverage for Business Income and 5 Extra Expense, you may extend that insurance to apply to the actual loss of Business
6 Income you sustain and reasonable and necessary Extra Expense you incur caused 7 by action of civil authority that prohibits access to the described premises. The civil 8 authority action must be due to direct physical loss of or damage to property at 9 locations, other than described premises, that are within 100 miles of the described 10 premises, caused by or resulting from a Covered Cause of Loss.

11 Id. at 32.

12 3. Exclusion Provisions

13 The final type of relevant provisions are exclusion clauses. These provisions remove from 14 coverage types of losses, or causes of losses, that would otherwise be triggered by a general
15 coverage provision. In this litigation, common exclusion provisions include Virus, Consequential
16 Loss, Ordinance or Law, and Act or Decision clauses. Of particular relevance here is the Virus
17 exclusion, which is exemplified by the policy of Dr. Kuzi Hsue, DDS, PS, who owns and operates 18 a dentistry practice in Tukwila, Washington:

19 B. We will not pay for loss or damage caused by or resulting from any virus, 20 bacterium or other microorganism that induces or is capable of inducing physical 21 distress, illness or disease.

22 Nguyen, Defs.' Revised Mot. to Dismiss the Consolidated Am. Class Action Compl., Ex.
23 D., No. 20-cv-00597, Dkt. No. 53-4 at 193 ("Hsue Policy").

24 C. Claims Against Insurance Companies

25 Based primarily on the reasoning that COVID-19, as a virus, does not cause harm to or loss of physical property, insurance companies across the United States have denied businesses' claims for lost income pursuant to their all-risk business insurance policies. See, e.g., Vita Coffee LLC v.

1 Fireman’s Fund Ins. Co., Notice of Removal, Ex. 1, 20-cv-01079, Dkt. No. 1-1 ¶ 3.70 (Complaint
2 of Vita Coffee LLC). Many insurance companies also denied coverage based on the exclusion
3 clauses listed above. See, e.g., id. In response, the businesses filed suit.

4 The suits before this Court advance some combination of six separate causes of action.
5 See, e.g., Owen Davies, Compl., No. 20-cv-06155, Dkt. No. 1 ¶¶ 70–91. These include (1)
6 Declaratory Relief seeking a determination that the businesses’ losses and expenses resulting from 7 interruption of business are covered by the businesses’ policies; (2) Breach of Contract based on 8 the insurance companies’ denials of coverage; (3) Insurance Bad Faith or Failure to Act in Good 9 Faith based on the claim that the insurance companies unreasonably denied coverage or failed to 10 reasonably investigate the businesses’ claims; (4) violation of the Washington Consumer
11 Protection Action (“WCPA”), WASH. REV. CODE § 19.86, et seq.; (5) violation of the Washington
12 Insurance Fair Conduct Act (“IFCA”), WASH. REV. CODE § 48.30.015; and (6) Negligence. Id.

14 All of the Complaints before the Court advance at least the first two foregoing causes of 15 action, which the Court will refer to as the “Contractual Claims” as they involve allegations related 16 to the insurance contracts themselves. The “Extra-Contractual Claims,” or the other four causes 17 of action, generally address the propriety of the insurance companies’ conduct in denying 18 coverage. Additionally, some of the Complaints advance class action allegations seeking to 19 represent similarly situated plaintiffs across the State and country, see, e.g., Cascadia Dental 20 Specialists, Inc. v. Am. Fire and Cas. Co., Compl., No. 20-cv-00732, Dkt. No. 1 ¶¶ 29–39, while 21 others include only the individually named plaintiff, see, e.g., Strelow v. Hartford Cas. Ins. Co., 22 Compl. No. 20-cv-00797, Dkt. No. 1.

24 As mentioned previously, these lawsuits are prevalent across the country. The Judicial 25

2 re COVID-19 Bus. Interruption Prot. Ins. Litig., 482 F. Supp. 3d 1360 (J.P.M.L. 2020). The 3 University of Pennsylvania Carey Law School’s COVID Coverage Litigation Tracker (“CCLT”)
4 has been monitoring the number of similar cases filed, and their outcomes. See COVID Coverage
5 Litigation Tracker, University of Pennsylvania Carey School of Law, <https://cclt.law.upenn.edu/>
6 (last visited May 28, 2021). As of the date of this Order, the CCLT has tracked at least 1,766
7 similar cases filed in federal or state court. Id. Of those cases which have published rulings on 8 dispositive motions similar to those before this Court, the majority have granted dismissal, finding 9 no coverage.<sup>4</sup>

11 D. Procedural History

12 The cases before the Court were transferred to the undersigned on an ad hoc, one-by-one 13 basis as they were filed. See, e.g., Chorak, Order Reassigning Case, No. 20-cv-00627, Dkt. No.
14 18 (issued Sept. 9, 2020).<sup>5</sup> On September 29, 2020, the Court published its First Scheduling Order 15 directing all of the parties to meet and confer to discuss the commonalities in their cases and

17
20 <sup>4</sup> As of the date of this Order, of the 292 total orders issued in federal court, 237 have granted full dismissal with prejudice, 30 full dismissal without prejudice, 22 have denied motions to dismiss, and 3 have granted partial dismissal with prejudice.

21 <sup>5</sup> It is worth briefly noting that the undersigned continues to receive similar cases after ordering consolidation of 22 actions. Some of these cases named an insurance group involved in the consolidated cases named above and, as 23 such, the Court ordered consolidation and consideration with the already existing consolidated case. See, e.g., 13
24 Coins Management LLC v. Nat’l Surety Corp., Min. Order, No. 21-cv-00178, Dkt. No. 8. Other cases named
25 completely new insurance groups. See, e.g., Wellington Athletic Club LLC v. Allied World Surplus Lines Ins. Co.,
No. 21-cv-00256. Several of the newest cases have filed their own Motions to Dismiss, which the Court will rule on separately in accordance with the principles established herein. See, e.g., HT-Seattle Owner LLC v. Am. Guar. and Liab. Ins. Co., 21-cv-00048; Cadeceus LLC v. Scottsdale Ins. Co., No. 21-cv-00050; B and F Enter. Nw. LLC v.

4 Subsequently, the Court—with the cooperation of the Parties—issued a series of orders
5 consolidating all the matters before it to date into the ten consolidated actions currently before the 6 Court. See id., Order on Consolidation, Dkt. No. 38. Each consolidated action represents one 7 group of affiliated insurance companies. The ten cases are as follows:

- 8 A. Aspen Lodging Group LLC v. Affiliated FM Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-01038
9 (Affiliated FM Insurance Company);
- 10 B. Marler v. Aspen Am. Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-00616 (Aspen American Insurance 11 Company);
- 12 C. McCulloch v. Valley Forge Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-00809 (CNA Financial 13 Corporation);
- 14 D. Vita Coffee LLC v. Fireman’s Fund Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-01079 (Fireman’s Fund 15 Insurance Company);
- 16 E. Caballero v. Mass. Bay Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-05437 (The Hanover Insurance 17 Group, Inc.);
- 18 F. Chorak v. Hartford Cas. Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-00627 (The Hartford Financial 19 Services Group);
- 20 G. Pacific Endodontics PS v. Ohio Cas. Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-00620 (Liberty Mutual 21 Holding Company Inc.);
- 22 H. Germack v. Dentists Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-00661 (The Dentists Insurance 23 Company);
- 24 I. Nguyen v. Travelers Cas. Ins. Co. of Am., No. 20-cv-00597 (The Travelers 25 Companies, Inc.); and
- J. La Cocina de Oaxaca LLC v. Tri-State Ins. Co. of Minn., No. 20-cv-01176 (Tri-State Insurance Company of Minnesota).

Each Defendant insurance group filed at least one dispositive motion (either a Motion to 1 Dismiss, Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings, or Motion for Summary Judgment) or adopted a

2 dispositive motion already pending in a pre-consolidation case filed against them. In opposition
3 to the dispositive motions, the Plaintiffs in seven of the ten consolidated cases chose to file the 4 same Omnibus Response in each of their cases, jointly addressing the common issues present in 5 all of their cases. See Chorak, Pls.’ Omnibus Opp’n to Defs.’ Mots. to Dismiss, No. 20-cv-00627,
6 Dkt. No. 64 (“Omnibus Resp.”).<sup>6</sup> The Defendants in those seven cases, in turn, filed an Omnibus
7 Reply. See id., Defs.’ Omnibus Reply in Support of their Mots. to Dismiss and for J. on the 8 Pleadings, Dkt. No. 73 (“Omnibus Reply”).<sup>7</sup> The other cases which did not file the omnibus
9 briefing followed the same timeline as the omnibus group but chose to file individual responses
10 and replies.<sup>8</sup>

Supreme Ct., No. 20-cv-00627, Dkt. No. 66. On April 23, 2021, this Court issued an order denying that Motion.
See id., Order Den. Mot. to Certify Questions to the Wash. Supreme Court, Dkt. No. 85.

6 Germack, Defs.’ Mot. for Summ. J., No. 20-cv-0061, Dkt. No. 35.

8 All three types of motions test the legal sufficiency of a plaintiff’s claims. Under FRCP 9 12(b), a complaint should be dismissed where the plaintiff “fail[s] to state a claim upon which 10 relief can be granted.” FED. R. CIV. P. 12(b)(6). Similarly, pursuant to FRCP 12(c), “[a]fter the 11 pleadings are closed—but early enough not to delay trial—a party may move for judgment on the 12 pleadings,” which is assessed under the same standard as FRCP 12(b). FED. R. CIV. P. 12(c); see 13 also Gregg v. Haw. Dep’t of Pub. Safety, 870 F.3d 883, 887 (9th Cir. 2017) (quoting Cafasso v.

15 motion is ‘functionally identical’ to a Rule 12(b)(6) motion, ‘the same standard of review applies 16 to motions brought under either rule.”)). Summary Judgment pursuant to FRCP 56 holds that a 17 motion should be granted where “the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any 18 material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.” FED. R. CIV. P. 56(a).

2 Young v. State, 992 F.3d 765, 778 (9th Cir. 2021); Fleming v. Pickard, 581 F.3d 922, 925 (9th Cir.
3 2009). In doing so, the Court is limited to reviewing materials that are submitted with, and attached
4 to, the complaint; matters appropriate for judicial notice; and unattached evidence on which the 5 complaint “necessarily relies.” Beverly Oaks Physicians Surgical Ctr., LLC v. Blue Cross & Blue
6 Shield of Ill., 983 F.3d 435, 439 (9th Cir. 2020). During a motion for summary judgment, the 7 Court “view[s] justifiable inferences in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party” but, at 8 the same time, “the nonmoving party ‘may not rest upon mere allegations or denials of its
10 Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 256 (1986)).

12 Most of the cases currently before the Court have not conducted discovery. The Court
13 stayed all discovery at the request of the Parties in most of the cases pending consideration of the 14 dispositive motions. See, e.g., Chorak, Scheduling Order, No. 20-cv-00627, Dkt. No. 39 at 1.<sup>10</sup>
15 Based on the lack of discovery, and the fact that the Court directed the Parties to address largely 16 issues of law in their dispositive motions concerning coverage and exclusions, the Court will 17 evaluate all of the Motions according to the FRCP 12(b) and 12(c) standard and consider only the 18 evidence appropriate to those types of motions.

6 Washington law, “[c]onstruction of an insurance policy is a question of law for the courts, the 7 policy is construed as a whole, and the policy should be given a fair, reasonable, and sensible
8 construction as would be given to the contract by the average person purchasing insurance.” Queen

19 If an undefined term is ambiguous, it “must be construed against the insurer and in favor
20 of the insured.” Holden v. Farmers Ins. Co. of Wash., 239 P.3d 344, 347 (Wash. 2010). A term

2 Holden, 239 P.3d at 347. Where, however, the language of a policy is clear and unambiguous, the 3 Court “must enforce the policy as it is written and may not modify the policy or create ambiguity

12 liability by showing the loss is excluded by specific policy language.” Overton, 38 P.3d at 329
13 (citing McDonald v. State Farm Fire & Cas. Co., 837 P.2d 1000, 1003–04 (Wash. 1992)). In other
14 words, in the two-step process the Court first looks to see if there is coverage under a general
15 coverage provision and then turns to whether an exclusion subsequently removes coverage. In the

20
22 <sup>11</sup> To the extent that Plaintiffs rely on American Best Food, Inc. v. Alea London, Ltd., 229 P.3d 693 (Wash. 2010), to 23 argue that the Washington Supreme Court has established a rule of interpretation requiring courts evaluating 24 Washington law to find ambiguity in an insurance contract where there is conflicting out-of-state precedent on an 25 undecided question within the State, the Court is unconvinced. See Omnibus Resp. at 10, 16–20. In that case, the Washington Supreme Court announced no rules or presumptions and did no more than look to out-of-state precedents when no in-state precedent applied to the specific question it sought to answer. See Am. Best Food, 229
P.3d at 697–99. This Court will do the same.

IV. GENERAL FINDINGS

The Court divides the remainder of this Order into two sections. The first will examine applicable questions of coverage and exclusions based on the common terms contained in all the insurance policies at issue. The Court will then proceed to apply its general findings to the specific cases at issue, addressing any unique aspects of those cases.

A. General Coverage Provisions

1. Direct Physical Loss or Damage

As noted above, all the insurance policies at issue require some form of the phrase “direct physical loss of or damage to” covered property to trigger coverage in the first instance. No Washington State appellate court has addressed whether COVID-19, in concert with the Governor’s Proclamations, causes direct physical loss or damage. Two Washington trial courts have examined this question and determined that the term is at least ambiguous as to COVID-19-related losses, and, thus, coverage applies. See Perry Street Brewing Co. v. Mut. of Enumclaw Ins. Co., No. 20-2-02212-32, 2020 WL 7258116 (Wash. Super. Ct. Nov. 23, 2020); Hill and Stout PLLC v. Mut. of Enumclaw Ins. Co., No. 20-2-07925-1 SEA, 2020 WL 6784271, at *1 (Wash. Super. Ct. Nov. 13, 2020).

Plaintiffs urge the Court to follow these two state court decisions and find that the term is ambiguous and, therefore, coverage exists. Omnibus Resp. at 1; see also id. at 11–27. In doing so, Plaintiffs rely heavily on the courts’ opinions in Perry Street and Hill and Stout. See id. at 20–22.

Defendants, on the other hand, argue the requirement for direct physical loss or damage is clear, unambiguous, and does not provide coverage for COVID-19-related losses. See Omnibus

1 Reply at 7–23. They further argue that Washington appellate precedent aligns with this
2 interpretation, id. at 8–15, and that Perry Street and Hill and Stout were wrongly decided, id. at 3 15–16. Therefore, Defendants urge the Court to follow the now overwhelming majority of courts
4 who have found no coverage. Id. at 17–21.

5 None of the policies at issue formally defines “direct physical loss of or damage to.” Most,
6 if not all, courts that have examined this phrase have recognized that the disjunction between “loss
7 of” and “damage to” leads to the conclusions that (1) the terms “loss” and “damage” must mean 8 something different, giving both distinct meaning, see, e.g., Frank Van’s Auto Tag, LLC v.
9 Selective Ins. Co. of the Se., No. 20-cv-2740, 2021 WL 289547, at *4 (E.D. Pa. Jan. 28, 2021); and 10 (2) that the “direct physical” modifies both “loss” and “damage,” see, e.g., Plan Check Downtown
11 III, LLC v. AmGuard Ins. Co., 485 F. Supp. 3d 1225, 1229 (C.D. Cal. 2020). Thus, this Court 12 must determine the meaning of the term “direct physical loss of” as well as the term “direct 13 physical damage to” the insured property.

15 a. Direct Physical Damage to Property

16 The Court begins with “damage” as it is more straightforward. Most of the Plaintiffs before 17 this Court seem to concede that COVID-19, as an airborne virus that can live only briefly on non-18 organic surfaces, does not cause damage to those surfaces, such as the buildings, counters, dentist
19 chairs, and other insured property of the businesses at issue. See, e.g., Omnibus Resp. at 11–16
20 (focusing on arguments that COVID-19 causes “loss of” insured property). Some Plaintiffs,
21 however, have argued that COVID-19 causes “damage to” covered property as “[a]n average
22 purchaser of insurance . . . would understand that the physical presence of COVID-19 causes ‘loss’
23 and/or ‘damage’ because it contaminates and thereby alters physical surfaces in a way that creates

1 a risk of serious illness and death for patients and staff.” Aspen Lodging, Pl. the Vancouver
2 Clinic’s Mot. for Partial Summ. J. against Def. Affiliated FM Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-0138, Dkt. No.
3 33 at 18–19.

4 The Court rejects this interpretation of direct physical damage. As numerous courts have 5 recognized, “COVID-19 hurts people, not property,” Johnson v. Hartford Fin. Servs. Grp., Inc., 6 No. 20-cv-02000, 2021 WL 37573, at *7 (N.D. Ga. Jan. 4, 2021), as “the pandemic impacts human 7 health and human behavior, not physical structures,” Uncork & Create LLC v. Cincinnati Ins. Co., 8 498 F. Supp. 3d 878, 884 (S.D.W. Va. 2020); see also, e.g., Select Hosp., LLC v. Strathmore Ins.
9 Co., No. 20-cv-11414, 2021 WL 1293407, at *3 (D. Mass. Apr. 7, 2021); Wellness Eatery La Jolla
10 LLC v. Hanover Ins. Grp., No. 20-cv-1277, 2021 WL 389215, at *7 (S.D. Cal. Feb. 3, 2021).
11 Thus, all that is needed to decontaminate is to “wipe[] [the virus] off the surface with disinfectant,” 12 attesting to the fact that there is no underlying damage. Woolworth LLC v. The Cincinnati Ins.
13 Co., No. 20-cv-01084, 2021 WL 1424356, at *4 (N.D. Ala. Apr. 15, 2021); see also, e.g., Town
14 Kitchen LLC v. Certain Underwriters at Lloyd’s, London, No. 20-cv-22832, 2021 WL 768273, at 15 *7 (S.D. Fla. Feb. 26, 2021) (relying on Mama Jo’s Inc. v. Sparta Ins. Co., 823 F. App’x 868 (11th 16 Cir. 2020)). The Court concludes that COVID-19 does not cause direct physical damage to 17 property as the term is used in the insurance policies.

20 b. Direct Physical Loss of Property

21 The Parties debate whether COVID-19 causes direct physical loss of property at greater 22 length. The key term in this context is “loss.” Defendants argue that “loss” means that the property 23 incurred an “actual and discernable physical alteration” or that the insured has been “permanent[ly]
24 and physical[ly] dispossess[ed]” of the property, such as through theft or total destruction.

1 Omnibus Reply at 8. Plaintiffs counter that “loss” means not only a physical alteration of the 2 insured property, but it also includes “the loss of the ability to use property.” Omnibus Resp. at 3 11.

4 In determining the meaning of “loss” as used in these insurance policies, the Court turns to 5 its common definition. “Loss” is defined as “the act or fact of being unable to keep or maintain 6 something” or “the act of losing possession” of something. Loss, Merriam-Webster.com,
7 <https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/loss> (last visited May 28, 2021). “Possess,” in turn,
8 is commonly defined as “to have and hold as property,” similar to “own,” or to “seize and take 9 control of.” Possess, Merriam-Webster.com, https://www.merriam-
10 webster.com/dictionary/possess (last visited May 28, 2021). Thus, “loss of” is best understood as 11 no longer being able to own or control the property in question. When combined with “direct”
12 and “physical” the Court determines that, in its common usage, “loss” means that the alleged peril
13 must set in motion events which cause the inability to physically own or manipulate the property, 14 such as theft or total destruction.

17 This reasoning aligns with most of the federal courts who have confronted this question
18 and held that “physical loss of” requires tangible, material, discernable, or corporeal dispossession
19 of the covered property, which COVID-19 does not cause. To be certain, the terminology courts 20 have used varies. For example, most California courts have adopted the phrase “distinct, 21 demonstrable, physical alteration,” see, e.g., Island Rests., LP v. Affiliated FM Ins. Co., 20-cv-
24 Travelers Indem. Co. of Conn., 483 F. Supp. 3d 828, 836 (C.D. Cal. 2020), which derives from the 25

1 California Court of Appeals’ decision in MRI Healthcare Ctr. of Glendale, Inc. v. State Farm Gen.
2 Ins. Co., 115 Cal. Rptr. 3d 27, 37 (Cal. Ct. App. 2010). While that definition derives from a
3 California court applying California law, there is nothing that limits this understanding to 4 California law, as the phrase is popular outside of that State in courts applying the law of their 5 home states.<sup>12</sup> MRI Healthcare itself took the phrase from a treatise on insurance law, attesting to 6 its wider applicability. See MRI Healthcare Ctr., 115 Cal. Rptr. 3d at 37 (quoting Generally;
7 “Physical” loss or damage, 10A Couch on Ins. § 148:46 (3d ed. 2020)). Other phrases are 8 commonly used by courts, including “tangible alteration,”<sup>13</sup> “material, perceptible destruction or 9 deprivation of possession,”<sup>14</sup> “physical manifestation of loss or damage,”<sup>15</sup> and “physically 10 impact[ed].”<sup>16</sup>

12 Also common is an understanding of what direct physical loss does not cover, including 13 “purely economic losses.” See, e.g., Equity Plan. Corp. v. Westfield Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-01204, 14 2021 WL 766802, at *10 (N.D. Ohio Feb. 26, 2021); Rococo Steak, LLC v. Aspen Specialty Ins.

1 finds that, in arguing that direct physical loss covers loss of income in these circumstances,
2 Plaintiffs conflate physical loss with non-physical loss of use. Detrimental economic impact,
3 however, does not trigger coverage under the property insurance here at issue. As numerous courts
4 have held, “economic business impairments caused by COVID-19 safety orders do not fall within 5 the scope of coverage.” Caribe Rest. & Nightclub, Inc. v. Topa Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-03570, 2021
6 WL 1338439, at *3 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 9, 2021) (emphasis in original) (citing 10E, 483 F. Supp. 3d
7 at 836); see, e.g., Cafe Int’l Holding Co. LLC, v. Westchester Surplus Lines Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-8 21641, 2021 WL 1803805, at *1 (S.D. Fla. May 4, 2021) (“Plaintiff may have lost business because 9 of the pandemic, but a decline in restaurant revenue or profits is merely an economic loss, not a 10 loss covered by the policy.”); see also id. at *8.

12 Terminology aside, the result is the same. In order to trigger coverage under a direct 13 physical loss theory, an outside peril must cause an inability to interact with the property because 14 of an alteration to its physical status. COVID-19, and more specifically the Governor’s
15 Proclamations, may have limited the uses of the property by preventing certain indoor activities
16 previously conducted on the premises, but they did not cause dispossession of the buildings, chairs, 17 dental tools, etc. As other courts have adeptly summarized, the “property did not change. The 18 world around it did.” Town Kitchen, 2021 WL 768273, at *5.

20 Interpreting direct physical loss to include only tangible dispossession aligns with 21 insurance law doctrine which holds that all-risk contracts are intended to cover damage to property,
22 not economic loss. As a commonly cited treatise states,

24 The requirement that the loss be “physical,” given the ordinary definition of that 25 term, is widely held to exclude alleged losses that are intangible or incorporeal and, thereby, to preclude any claim against the property insurer when the insured merely suffers a detrimental economic impact unaccompanied by a distinct, demonstrable,

1 physical alteration of the property.

2 Generally; “Physical” loss or damage, 10A Couch on Ins. § 148:46 (3d ed. 2020)
3 (footnotes omitted).

4 Numerous federal courts have followed Couch in finding that damages resulting from 5 COVID-19 are not covered by the policies at issue in these COVID cases.<sup>17</sup> In other words,
6 “Plaintiff[s]’ operations are not what is insured—the building and the personal property in or on 7 the building are.” Real Hosp., LLC v. Travelers Cas. Ins. Co. of Am., 499 F. Supp. 3d 288 (S.D.
8 Miss. 2020).

9 Several Plaintiffs seek to distinguish their cases from this conclusion by asserting the actual 10 presence of COVID-19 on their premises, e.g., by visitation from an infected person, rather than 11 merely the threat of exposure. Given the Court’s conclusion that COVID-19 does not cause 12 physical harm or damage to non-organic surfaces, the Court finds that the pleading of actual 13 presence is immaterial.<sup>18</sup>

15 This Court joins the numerous courts across the country that have held that COVID-19 16 does not trigger direct physical loss or damage.

2. Washington State Precedents

The Court turns to Washington precedent and finds that it is consistent with the conclusion that COVID-19 does not cause direct physical loss of or damage to covered property. The Washington State Supreme Court has not yet addressed the question of whether COVID-19 causes direct physical loss or damage. Therefore, this Court’s task is to predict how it would. “Where the state’s highest court has not squarely addressed an issue, [the Court] ‘predict[s] how the highest state court would decide the issue using intermediate appellate court decisions, decisions from other jurisdictions, statutes, treatises, and restatements as guidance.’” Judd v. Weinstein, 967 F.3d 952, 955–56 (9th Cir. 2020) (quoting Lewis v. Tel. Emps. Credit Union, 87 F.3d 1537, 1545 (9th Cir. 1996)); see also Childress v. Costco Wholesale Corp., 978 F.3d 664, 665 (9th Cir. 2020) (“If the state’s highest appellate court has not decided the question presented, then [the Court] must predict how the state’s highest court would decide the question.”).

a. Perry Street and Hill and Stout

Both Parties agree, as they must, that Washington trial court decisions are not binding on this Court. Bauman v. Turpen, 160 P.3d 1050, 1055 (Wash. Ct. App. 2007) (“the findings of fact and conclusions of law of a superior court are not legal authority and have no precedential value.”). Plaintiffs, nevertheless, point to the two Washington trial court decisions in Perry Street and Hill and Stout, which concluded that the meaning of “direct physical loss of or damage to” covered property is ambiguous and, thus, must be construed in Plaintiffs’ favor.

The court in Perry Street stressed that “loss” and “damage” must be interpreted to have distinct meanings and loss could be understood to cover situations where “property could not physically be used for its intended purpose.” Perry Street, 2020 WL 7258116, at *3. Similarly,

1 Hill and Stout held that the plaintiffs had been deprived of their dental practice when they were 2 unable to see patients. Hill and Stout, 2020 WL 6784271, at *2.

3 The Court finds this reasoning unpersuasive. The reasoning that “loss” could plausibly
4 mean something akin to “deprivation of use” discounts the preceding term “physical.” As stated
5 above, this Court has already determined—in accord with the reasoning of the vast majority of 6 those courts that have addressed the issue—that COVID-19 does not physically alter the insured 7 property. The only change is an intangible restriction of what the property may be used for.

9 Thus, this Court declines to follow the conclusions reached in Perry Street and Hill and 10 Stout.

11 b. Other Washington Precedents

12 In supporting their arguments that COVID-19-related losses do not trigger direct physical 13 loss or damage to covered property, Defendants rely heavily on at least three Washington State
14 appellate court cases for the position that Washington law requires discernable physical alteration
15 or permanent dispossession of property, including Villella v. Public Employees Mutual Insurance
16 Company, 725 P.2d 957 (Wash. 1986); Fujii v. State Farm Fire & Casualty Company, 857 P.2d
17 1051 (Wash. Ct. App. 1993); and Wolstein v. Yorkshire Insurance Company, Ltd., 985 P.2d 400
18 (Wash. Ct. App. 1999). See Chorak, Defs. Hartford Cas. Ins. Co., Hartford Fire Ins. Co., and 19 Sentinel Ins. Co., Ltd.’s Mot. to Dismiss and Mot. for J. on the Pleadings, No. 20-cv-00627, Dkt.

<sup>19</sup> Defendants also refer to several unpublished opinions of the Washington State Court of Appeals. See Herr v. Forghani, No. 64738–5–I, 2011 WL 1833829 (Wash. Ct. App. May 16, 2011); Wash. Mut. Bank v. Commonwealth

1 Examining these cases, two conclusions are clear to this Court. First, none is directly on-
2 point as they do not address the specific type of losses COVID-19 causes. Thus, they do not dictate
3 this Court’s decision in the present circumstances. At the same time, all three interpret the phrase
4 “direct physical loss of or damage to,” or the similar phrase “physical loss to,” in a way that 5 emphasizes the physicality of loss, or the requirement of a physical consequence, which supports
6 this Court’s conclusion that “physical loss” means dispossession and loss of tangible control, rather 7 than mere loss of use.

9 The Court finds Fujii and Wolstein illustrative. See Fast Trak Inv. Co. v. Sax, 962 F.3d
10 455, 465 (9th Cir. 2020) (internal quotations and citations removed) (“An intermediate state
11 appellate court decision is a datum for ascertaining state law which is not to be disregarded by a 12 federal court unless it is convinced by other persuasive data that the highest court of the state would 13 decide otherwise.”).

14 In Fujii, the Washington Court of Appeals examined the case of a married couple whose 15 home was threatened by the prospect of a landslide after heavy rainfall caused soil destabilization
16 upslope. Fujii, 857 P.2d at 1051. The court held that, since no damage had yet occurred, there 17 was no coverage pursuant to a policy which required “direct physical loss to the property.” Id. at 18 1052–53 (“it is undisputed that there was no discernible physical damage to the dwelling during

1 the effective period of the policy.”).

2 Similarly, in Wolstein, the Washington Court of Appeals addressed a vessel owner who 3 sought to recover pursuant to a policy covering “all risks of physical loss of or damage to the 4 Vessel.” Wolstein, 985 P.2d at 407; see id. at 403–04. In that case, the original shipbuilder
5 abandoned construction of the insured yacht after running into financial difficulties and declaring 6 bankruptcy. The court held that the physical loss or damage provision did not cover the alleged 7 losses because the shipbuilder’s “financial difficulties, while prolonging completion of the [yacht]
8 and increasing the costs of her completion, did not inflict physical damage to the [yacht] or result 9 in the physical loss of the yacht.” Id. at 407.

11 Plaintiff’s attempts to distinguish these cases are unconvincing. See Omnibus Resp. at 22–
12 25. In doing so, they rely heavily on the factual dissimilarities between the circumstances in these 13 cases and the one here. It is already clear, however, that no Washington appellate court has 14 confronted this specific circumstance in relation to this specific term. The Court’s charge in this 15 circumstance is not merely to determine whether there is a factually analogous case on-point.
16 Instead, the Court is tasked with predicting how the Washington Supreme Court would rule based 17 on the line of precedent before it. To this end, the Court finds that these precedents are useful
18 indicators that the Washington Supreme Court would decide that the term “physical loss” requires 19 dispossession of property.

21 B. Extensions

22 Almost all Plaintiffs argue that, should the Court find that the general coverage provisions
23 do not afford them coverage in the COVID-19 situation, the Court should look to the extension
24 provisions contained in their insurance contracts for independent coverage grounds. Plaintiffs

1 contend the following provisions provide coverage.

2 1. Business Income, Extra Expense, and Extended Business Income Provisions

3 None of the extension provisions which define the benefits an insured is entitled offer
4 coverage as they rely on an initial trigger of the general coverage provision discussed above.
5 Often, these extension provisions themselves explicitly incorporate the requirement for physical 6 loss or damage. For example, the provisions found in the policy of Stan's Bar-B-Q, quoted in the 7 footnote below, do not act as independent grounds for finding coverage for these reasons. See
8 Stan's Bar-B-Q Policy at 19–20.<sup>20</sup>

10 2. Civil Authority Provisions

11 Plaintiffs contend that the Civil Authority provisions found in their policies entitle them to 12 coverage, either as an extension of the general coverage provision or independently. See Omnibus

15
17 <sup>20</sup> a. Business Income

18 (2) We will pay for the actual loss of Business Income you sustain due to the necessary “suspension” of 19 your “operations” during the “period of restoration.” The “suspension” must be caused by direct physical loss of or damage to property at the described premises.

20 b. Extra Expense

21 (1) Extra Expense means reasonable and necessary expenses you incur during the “period of restoration” that you would not have incurred if there had been no direct physical loss of or damage to property caused by or resulting from a Covered Cause of Loss.

22 c. Extended Business Income

23 (1) If the necessary “suspension” of your “operations” produces a Business Income loss payable under paragraph a. above, we will also pay. . .

24 However, this extended Business Income does not apply to loss of Business Income incurred as a result of 25 unfavorable business conditions caused by the impact of a Covered Cause of Loss in the area where the described premises are located.

1 As exemplified by the policy of Stan’s Bar-B-Q reproduced supra, and here in footnote,
2 the Civil Authority provisions only extend benefits covering actual loss of “Business Income” and 3 “reasonable and necessary Extra Expenses” where its terms are met. See Stan’s Bar-B-Q Policy
4 at 32.<sup>21</sup> Those terms include that (1) coverage is triggered in the first instance (“[w]hen the 5 Declarations show that you have coverage for Business Income and Extra Expense”); (2) the 6 extended losses are caused by the “action of civil authority”; (3) that “prohibits access to the 7 described premises”; and (4) the cause of the civil authority itself must stem from “direct physical 8 loss of or damage to property” other than the business’s property within a geographic radius (100
9 miles in Stan’s Bar-B-Q’s case), which, in turn, must be caused by a Covered Cause of Loss. Id.
10 The archetypal civil authorities that trigger coverage under such a provision are ordinances 11 regulating construction, repair, or right to use property (including destruction of the property), such 12 as evacuation orders during a natural disaster. See Nature of Provision, Generally, 10A Couch on

22 <sup>21</sup> G. Civil Authority

23 (1) When the Declarations show that you have coverage for Business Income and Extra Expense, you may 24 extend that insurance to apply to the actual loss of Business Income you sustain and reasonable and 25 necessary Extra Expense you incur caused by action of civil authority that prohibits access to the described premises. The civil authority action must be due to direct physical loss of or damage to property at locations, other than described premises, that are within 100 miles of the described premises, caused by or resulting from a Covered Cause of Loss.

1 circumstances. First, where the Civil Authority provision is premised on an initial trigger of 2 coverage, there are no independent grounds to find coverage as the Court has found no trigger
3 because COVID-19 does not cause direct physical loss of or damage to insured property. Second,
4 where the Civil Authority provision incorporates the requirement for physical loss or damage to a
5 neighboring building, there is no coverage because the Court has already found COVID-19 does
6 not cause such loss or damage. As demonstrated below, these two deficiencies defeat coverage
7 under every permutation of the Civil Authority provision in these cases. This view has prevailed
8 among federal courts examining whether similar Civil Authority provisions provide coverage as a
9 result of COVID-19. See, e.g., Aggie Invs., LLC v. Cont'l Cas. Co., 21-cv-0013, 2021 WL
10 1550479, at *5 (E.D. Tex. Apr. 20, 2021); Mohawk Gaming Enters., LLC v. Affiliated FM Ins. Co., 12 1293407, at *4 (D. Mass. Apr. 7, 2021).

14 C. Exclusions

15 While the Court's decision that the term "physical loss or damage" does not provide 16 coverage in the case of COVID-19 is determinative, the Parties expend extensive time contesting
17 the applicability of the Virus exclusion contained in many of their policies. In the interest of 18 completeness, the Court will address this issue.

20 1. Virus Exclusions

21 Plaintiffs argue that the Virus exclusions do not bar coverage. See Omnibus Resp. at 55–
22 65. The Virus exclusions state that "[w]e will not pay for loss or damage caused by or resulting 23 from any virus, bacterium or other microorganism that induces or is capable of inducing physical 24 distress, illness or disease," or something similar. Hsue Policy at 193.

a. Pandemic vs. Virus

Plaintiffs first argue that the Virus exclusion is not applicable because their losses stem from a pandemic, not a virus, and, thus, the provision is not triggered in the first instance. Omnibus Resp. at 56–58.

It is difficult to see how a pandemic differs from a virus other than in scope. Quite simply, one causes the other. See Pandemic, Merriam-Webster.com, <https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/pandemic> (last visited May 28, 2021) (“an outbreak of a disease that occurs over a wide geographic area (such as multiple countries or continents) and typically affects a significant proportion of the population”). The average insured would not be surprised to learn that a Virus exclusion excludes coverage based on measures taken to prevent a pandemic caused by a virus.

b. Efficient Proximate Cause

Plaintiffs’ invocation of Washington’s Efficient Proximate Cause Rule does not change this conclusion. In the exclusion context, as the provision at issue here is the Virus exclusion, the Rule holds that if “an excluded occurrence initiates the causal chain and is itself either the sole proximate cause or the efficient proximate cause of the loss,” there is no coverage. Xia, 400 P.3d at 1241; see also, e.g., Boxed Foods Co. v. Cal. Cap. Ins. Co., 497 F. Supp. 3d 516, 522 (N.D. Cal. 2020) (internal citations and quotations removed) (“An efficient proximate cause is a cause of loss that predominates and sets the other cause of loss in motion. When loss can be attributed to two causes—a covered and an excluded cause—coverage only exists if the efficient proximate cause of the damage is covered under the policy.”).

In this case, the dispute comes down to whether COVID-19 or the Governor’s

1 Proclamations predominately caused the businesses' losses. See Omnibus Resp. at 58–62. If the 2 virus was the efficient proximate cause of the losses, the Virus exclusion would apply, barring 3 coverage. If, as Plaintiffs argue, the Proclamations were the true efficient proximate cause of the 4 business losses, the exclusion would not apply (so the argument goes) because the Proclamations
5 are not an excluded cause under the Virus exclusions. See, e.g., Causeway Auto., LLC v. Zurich
6 Am. Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-8393, 2021 WL 486917, at *5–*6 (D.N.J. Feb. 10, 2021).

8 Determination of the efficient proximate cause is ordinarily a task for the jury but, “when 9 the facts are undisputed and the inferences therefrom are plain and incapable of reasonable doubt 10 or difference of opinion,” then determination of efficient proximate cause is a question of law for 11 the Court. Graham v. Pub. Emps. Mut. Ins. Co., 656 P.2d 1077, 1081 (Wash. 1983).

12 Here, the underlying facts are undisputed and the line of causation is clear: COVID-19
13 caused the Governor to issue the Proclamations, which forced Plaintiffs to curtail their business
14 operations. Under such circumstances, the exclusion barring coverage resulting from the virus 15 applies. See, e.g., Dolsen Cos. v. Bedivere Ins. Co., 264 F. Supp. 3d 1083, 1092–95 (E.D. Wash.
16 2017) (rejecting Efficient Proximate Cause argument where initial peril was an excluded harm and 17 the alleged subsequent peril was “necessarily intertwined” with initial peril).<sup>22</sup>
19 20 21

22
23 <sup>22</sup> Proximate cause arguments indistinguishable from Plaintiffs' arguments have been rejected by nearly every court.
24 See, e.g., Carpe Diem Spa, Inc. v. Travelers Cas. Ins. Co. of Am., No. 20-cv-14860, 2021 WL 1153171, at *3

c. Regulatory Estoppel

Plaintiffs argue that the doctrine of Regulatory Estoppel prohibits Defendants from relying on the Virus exclusion because “there are questions about whether insurers were forthcoming” with state insurance regulators, such as the Washington Office of the Insurance Commissioner, when first proposing to add such an exclusion to their policies. See Omnibus Reply at 62–65.

Regulatory Estoppel is a form of equitable estoppel which “prohibits parties from switching legal positions to suit their own ends.” Brian Handel D.M.D., P.C. v. Allstate Ins. Co., 499 F. Supp. 3d 95, *4 (E.D. Pa. 2020) (quoting Sunbeam Corp. v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 781 A.2d 1189, 1192 (Pa. 2001)). In this context, it would hold that “[i]f an insurer represents to a regulatory agency that new language in a policy will not result in decreased coverage, the insurer cannot assert the opposite position when insureds raise the issue in litigation.” Id.

Plaintiffs admit that the Washington Supreme Court has not recognized Regulatory Estoppel but argue that this is not the same thing as formally rejecting it. Omnibus Resp. at 63–64. This Court will not adopt a rule of law that the Washington Supreme Court has not adopted. As such, this Court declines to recognize the doctrine of Regulatory Estoppel on behalf of the State of Washington.

Based on the foregoing, where a policy includes a Virus exclusion, that exclusion also bars coverage for the losses alleged here.

D. Extra-Contractual Claims

The Court’s holding construing the terms of the insurance policies resolves the Plaintiffs’ Contractual Claims (i.e. their causes of action based on Declaratory Judgment and Breach of Contract). The Court has determined the meaning of the terms in question and established that the 1 Defendants did not breach the terms of their insurance contracts by denying coverage.

2 The Parties debate, however, whether Plaintiffs' Extra-Contractual Claims (i.e., their 3 causes of action based on Bad Faith, WCPA, IFCA, and Negligence) can survive absent a finding
4 of coverage. Plaintiffs argue their Extra-Contractual Claims should survive, even if no coverage
5 is found, because the insurers may still have acted improperly in handling their claims. Omnibus
6 Resp. at 75–82. As their briefing contends, “[a]t the center of each Plaintiff’s extracontractual
7 claims is the well-founded contention that Defendants failed to conduct a reasonable investigation
8 of the facts and the governing law relating to the claims, resulting in coverage determinations that 9 were, in fact, unreasonable and unlawful.” Id. at 89.

11 Defendants contend that Plaintiffs' Extra-Contractual Claims should be dismissed along 12 with their Contractual Claims, arguing that once there is a finding that their denial of coverage was 13 justified, Plaintiffs failed to identify independent bad faith, negligence, or unfair practices to 14 support their claims. Omnibus Reply at 72–82.

16 Reviewing Plaintiffs' operative Complaints, the Court concludes that Plaintiffs rest their 17 Extra-Contractual Claims on nothing more than allegations that denial of coverage was 18 unreasonable, done without sufficient investigation, or simply reiterate the elements of the cause
19 of action. This fails to satisfy the Twombly-Iqbal standard. See Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550
20 U.S. 544, 555 (2007) (“a plaintiff’s obligation to provide the ‘grounds’ of his ‘entitlement to relief’ 21 requires more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of 22 action will not do.”).

24 As to claims premised on unreasonable denial, since the Court has found that COVID-19 25 does not cause physical loss or damage, denial of coverage on these grounds was reasonable.

1 Therefore, any claims for bad faith, negligence, or under the WCPA or IFCA premised on these 2 grounds must fail.

3 Plaintiffs' claims based on unreasonable investigation also fail. Defendants' denials of 4 coverage were based on policy interpretations. There was no need for factual investigations. In 5 these circumstances, the Court cannot say the quick denial of claims was unreasonable, frivolous,
6 or unfounded. Defendants were faced with hundreds of identical claims based on the same causal 7 event, namely COVID-19. As one court described,

9 because defendant's denials were based on policy interpretations, not factual 10 findings, it is not clear what would make those actions unreasonable under the 11 circumstances. The facts underlying the claims, much like the facts underlying the 12 present lawsuit, are largely, if not entirely, undisputed. And the speed with which 13 defendant denied plaintiffs' claims cannot support a claim for unfair or deceptive 14 trade practices.

15 Kamakura, LLC v. Greater N.Y. Mut. Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-11350, 2021 WL 1171630, at 16 *14 (D. Mass. Mar. 9, 2021).

17 Based on the foregoing, the Court determines that Plaintiffs have largely failed to plead
18 acts independent of unreasonable denial of coverage or investigation. Without independent
19 grounds, which Plaintiffs have failed to allege, dismissal of Plaintiffs' Extra-Contractual Claims 20 is appropriate.

21 E. Leave to Amend

22 Ordinarily, "[w]here a complaint is dismissed for failure to state a claim, 'leave to amend 23 should be granted unless the court determines that the allegation of other facts consistent with the 24 challenged pleading could not possibly cure the deficiency.'" PBTM LLC v. Football Nw., LLC, 25 No. 19-cv-2081, 2021 WL 37648, at *17 (W.D. Wash. Jan. 5, 2021) (quoting *Schreiber Distrib.
Co. v. Serv-Well Furniture Co.*, 806 F.2d 1393, 1401 (9th Cir. 1986)); see also Navajo Nation v.

1 U.S. Dep’t of the Interior, 996 F.3d 623, *6 (9th Cir. 2021) (quoting Polich v. Burlington N., Inc., 2 942 F.2d 1467, 1472 (9th Cir. 1991)) (“dismissal without leave to amend is improper unless it is 3 clear . . . that the complaint could not be saved by any amendment.”).

4 In the present cases, amendment would be futile. As COVID-19 does not cause direct 5 physical loss of covered property, and such loss is required to trigger coverage, there is no way
6 that Plaintiffs can amend their complaints to cure this deficiency. As such, the Court will deny 7 Plaintiffs’ claims with prejudice. See e.g., Seoul Taco Holdings, LLC v. Cincinnati Ins. Co., No.
8 20-cv-1249, 2021 WL 1889866, at *6 (E.D. Mo. May 11, 2021); M&E Bakery Holdings, LLC v.

13 V. INDIVIDUAL CASES

14 The Court now applies its above findings to the ten consolidated cases, listed below by

16 A. Defendant Affiliated FM Insurance Company (No. 20-cv-01038)

17 1. Case Background

18 This matter is made up of two constituent plaintiff groups who are insured by Affiliated 19 FM. The first plaintiff group is Vancouver Clinic Inc. PS. See Vancouver Clinic Inc PS v.
20 Affiliated FM Ins. Co., Order of Consolidation, No. 20-cv-05605, Dkt. No. 24. Vancouver Clinic
21 is a professional association of physicians who operate eight medical clinics in the Vancouver, 22 Washington area. Id., Am. Compl., Dkt. No. 8 ¶ 7 (“Vancouver Clinic Compl.”). It has alleged 23 the actual presence of COVID-19 in its clinics and advances causes of action for declaratory relief,

1 breach of contract, anticipatory repudiation of contract, insurance bad faith, and violations of the 2 IFCA and WCPA. Id. ¶¶ 4, 33–36, 51–85.

3 The second plaintiff group is Aspen Lodging Group LLC, which owns and manages several 4 hotels and restaurants under the Provenance Hotels brand. See Aspen Lodging, Compl., No. 20-5 cv-01038, Dkt. No. 1-2 ¶¶ 2, 26 (“Aspen Lodging Compl.”). Aspen Lodging has not plead the 6 actual presence of COVID-19 in its hotels and restaurants and its causes of action include
7 declaratory judgment, breach of contract, insurance bad faith, and claims under the IFCA and 8 WCPA. Id. ¶¶ 50–77. The Court consolidated these actions under Case No. 20-cv-01038.

10 Both Plaintiff groups’ insurance policies are substantially similar<sup>23</sup> and include a general
11 coverage provision based on physical loss or damage, entitled “Insurance Provided.”<sup>24</sup> The 12 Policies also contain two unique Communicable Disease provisions—one for Business

24 E. INSURANCE PROVIDED:

25 This Policy covers property, as described in this Policy, against ALL RISKS OF PHYSICAL LOSS OR DAMAGE, except as hereinafter excluded

1 Interruption<sup>25</sup> and the other for Property Damage<sup>26</sup> (the “Communicable Disease Provisions”)—
2 which provide coverage for losses if a communicable disease is detected at the insured property.
3 Unlike the Insurance Provided provision, the Communicable Disease Provisions do not contain a 4 physical loss trigger and, thus, must be addressed independently. Recovery under the 5 Communicable Disease Provisions is capped according to sub-limits.<sup>27</sup>

10 3. Communicable Disease – Business Interruption

11 If a described location owned, leased or rented by the Insured has the actual not suspected presence of 12 communicable disease and access to such described location is limited, restricted or prohibited by:

- 13 a) An order of an authorized governmental agency regulating such presence of communicable disease; or
- 14 b) A decision of an Officer of the Insured as a result of such presence of communicable disease,

15 This Policy covers the Business Interruption Coverage loss incurred by the Insured during the Period of 16 Liability at such described location with such presence of communicable disease.

18 5. Communicable Disease – Property Damage

19 If a described location owned, leased or rented by the Insured has the actual not suspected presence of 20 communicable disease and access to such described location is limited, restricted or prohibited by:

- 21 a) An order of an authorized governmental agency regulating or as result of such presence of 22 communicable disease; or
- 23 b) A decision of an Officer of the Insured as a result of such presence of communicable disease,

24 This Policy covers the reasonable and necessary costs incurred by the Insured at such described location for 25 the:

- 26 a) Cleanup, removal and disposal of such presence of communicable disease from insured property; and
- 27 b) Actual costs or fees payable to public relations services or actual costs of using the Insured’s employees for reputation management resulting from such presence of communicable disease on insured property.

<sup>27</sup> See Vancouver Clinic Policy at 11, 12; see also Aspen Lodging Policy at 22 ($500,000 cap), 23, stating

Additional Coverages

$100,000 Communicable Disease - Property Damage annual aggregate

Business Interruption Coverage Extensions

$100,000 Communicable Disease - Business Interruption annual aggregate for a 12 Month Period of Liability

1           Additionally, the Policies include a Civil or Military Authority extension<sup>28</sup> that contains a
2 physical loss trigger and a Contamination exclusion that bars coverage of losses associated with a 3 “contamination.”<sup>29</sup>

4           Both groups and Affiliated FM have filed Cross-Motions for Partial Summary Judgment.<sup>30</sup>
5 Additionally, both Vancouver Clinic and Aspen Lodging have submitted Motions for Judicial 6 Notice.<sup>31</sup> As the Court will resolve the Parties’ claims without reference to these documents, the 7 Court will deny the Motions for Judicial Notice as moot.

13           2. Civil or Military Authority

14           This Policy covers the Business Interruption Coverage loss incurred by the Insured during the Period of 15 Liability if an order of civil or military authority prohibits access to a location provided such order is the 16 direct result of physical damage of the type insured at a location or within five (5) statute miles of it.

17 <sup>29</sup> See Vancouver Clinic Policy at 82; see also Aspen Lodging Policy at 100, stating

18           This policy excludes loss or damage caused by any of the following excluded events . . . 10.
19 Contamination, and any cost due to contamination including the inability to use or occupy property or any 20 cost of making property safe or suitable for use or occupancy; nor will the foregoing constitute direct 21 physical loss or damage insured by this policy.

22 “Contamination” is defined as

23           any condition of property due to the actual or suspected presence of any foreign substance, impurity,
24 pollutant, hazardous material, poison, toxin, pathogen or pathogenic organism, bacteria, virus, disease
25 causing or illness causing agent, fungus, mold or mildew.

2. Vancouver Clinic Plaintiff

Affiliated FM admits Vancouver Clinic is entitled to coverage under the Communicable Disease Provisions as Vancouver Clinic has plead the actual presence of COVID-19. See Affiliated FM’s Vancouver Clinic Mot. at 2. Affiliated FM argues that these Provisions, however, are unique and distinct from coverage under the broader Insurance Provided provision and, thus, Vancouver Clinic’s recovery should be limited to the caps associated with the Communicable Disease Provisions, rather than the full policy limit. See id. at 20–21. Affiliated FM denies coverage under the general Insurance Provided provision according to the familiar argument that COVID-19 does not cause direct physical loss or damage. See Id. at 12–17.

Vancouver Clinic counters that it should be entitled to the full policy limit. See Vancouver Clinic’s Mot. at 1–5. Specifically, it argues that COVID-19 causes direct physical loss or damage, see id. at 16–26, and that the policy does not limit Vancouver Clinic’s recovery exclusively to the Communicable Disease provisions once a single peril implicates coverage under multiple provisions, see id. at 10–12, 15–16.

19 20 21
22
23
24

a. Coverage

As the Court has determined that COVID-19 does not cause physical loss or damage, coverage is not triggered under the general Insurance Provided provision. Thus, Vancouver Clinic’s recovery is limited to the Communicable Disease provisions, which, by their terms, do not include a physical loss or damage requirement.

Additionally, the Court is unpersuaded by Vancouver Clinic’s argument that Affiliated FM’s admission of coverage under the Communicable Disease provisions necessarily means that there is coverage under the Insurance Provided provision. See Vancouver Clinic’s Mot. at 12–15.

1 The Communicable Disease provisions apply when the disease is present, making it distinct from 2 the Insurance Provided provision, which requires physical loss or damage. Thus, the fact that the 3 Communicable Disease Provisions are applicable does not reverse-activate the Insurance Provided 4 provision.<sup>32</sup>

5 b. Recovery Limitations

6 Once determined that coverage is limited to the caps associated with the Communicable
7 Disease provisions, the Parties debate the exact amount Vancouver Clinic is entitled to recover.
8 Each Provision has a $100,000 sub-limit cap. Vancouver Clinic argues that it is entitled to these 9 sub-limits for each location with the reported presence of COVID-19, totaling $1.6 million.
10 Vancouver Clinic's Mot. at 15 n.4. Affiliated FM argues that Vancouver Clinic is entitled only to 11 $200,000 total as each Communicable Disease provision has an annual aggregate of $100,000.
12 Affiliated FM's Vancouver Clinic Mot. at 20–21.

14
15
16
17 <sup>32</sup> Additionally, the Parties debate the applicability of the Contamination exclusion. Affiliated FM argues that, even 18 were coverage established under the Insurance Provided provision, coverage pursuant to a virus such as COVID-19
19 would be barred by the Contamination exclusion. See Affiliated FM's Vancouver Clinic Mot. at 17–19. Vancouver
20 Clinic argues that the Contamination exclusion does not apply, and that Affiliated FM seeks to apply it
21 inconsistently to bar coverage under the Insurance Provided provision but not the Communicable Disease
22 provisions. See Vancouver Clinic's Mot. at 26–29. The Contamination exclusion operates similarly to the Virus
23 exclusion discussed supra and applies equally. See supra at 28–31. Further, it is not applied inconsistently. The 24 structure of the Policies leads to the conclusion that the Communicable Disease provisions are meant as an exception 25 to the Policy's exclusions. In other words, as to both the Property Insured and Business Interruption extensions, the pattern is (1) losses insured through the Insurance Provided provision, including a physical loss or damage trigger;
(2) exclusions, including the Contamination exclusion; and (3) extensions, including the Communicable Disease provisions. Thus, by the construction of the contract, the exclusions apply (including the Contamination exclusion) to the losses insured, except where modified by the subsequent extensions (including the Communicable Disease provisions). In terms of the circumstances at hand, this construction means that (1) COVID-19 does not trigger coverage because of a lack of physical loss or damage; (2) even if it did, the Contamination exclusion would exclude coverage; (3) but, since the terms of the Communicable Disease provisions are met, coverage is available under these provisions alone.

1           Reviewing the relevant sub-limits provided for in the Policy, it is clear that Vancouver
2 Clinic is entitled to a maximum of $200,000. Both Communicable Disease provisions' caps state
3 that they are subject to an annual aggregate. Vancouver Clinic Policy at 11, 12. "Annual aggregate"
4 is a defined term within the Policy, to wit: "the Company's maximum amount payable during any 5 policy year." Id. at 61. The language of this definition is clear; the insurance company will pay
6 no more than the identified cap in a single year. It matters not whether COVID-19 was present at 7 one or multiple Vancouver Clinic locations. The Policy's coverage maximum under each relevant
8 provision is $100,000. As the Court has found that these are the only applicable coverage
9 provisions within the Policy, coverage is set at $200,000 total.

11           c. Extra-Contractual Claims

12           Finally, Vancouver Clinic advances Extra-Contractual Claims for insurance bad faith and 13 violations of the WCPA and IFCA. Reviewing Vancouver Clinic's Complaint, the Court
14 determines that its Extra-Contractual Claims are based on Affiliated FM's denial of coverage, an 15 allegation of improper investigation, and conclusory claims that Affiliated FM violated industry 16 standards or engaged in deceptive practices, none of which are supported by allegations in the 17 Complaint. See Vancouver Clinic Compl. ¶¶ 75–76, 80, 84. Based on the Court's reasoning 18 above, these claims will be dismissed.
19

20           3. Aspen Lodging Plaintiffs

21           Unlike Vancouver Clinic, Affiliated FM denies coverage to Aspen Lodging in total because 22 Aspen Lodging has not plead the actual presence of the virus, which is a precondition to finding 23 coverage under the Communicable Disease Provisions. See Affiliated FM's Aspen Lodging Mot.

1 Aspen Lodging adopts the arguments advanced by Vancouver Clinic regarding coverage
2 under the broader Insurance Provided provision. See Aspen Lodging’s Mot. at 1. In addition to 3 those arguments, Aspen Lodging argues it is entitled to coverage under the Civil and Military 4 Authority extension. See id. at 7–13.

5 Affiliated FM argues that the Civil and Military Authority extension does not provide 6 independent coverage. Affiliated FM’s Aspen Lodging Mot. at 6–7. Additionally, Affiliated FM
7 raises a choice of law question on the grounds that the majority of Aspen Lodging’s contacts are 8 in the State of Oregon and, thus, Oregon law should control. Affiliated FM’s Aspen Lodging Mot.
9 at 7–15. The Court addresses the choice of law issue first.

11 a. Choice of Law

12 It is unnecessary for the Court to conduct a choice of law analysis as Affiliated FM has 13 failed to demonstrate an actual conflict between the laws of Washington and Oregon. When a 14 federal district court sits in diversity, as here, it “must follow the choice-of-law rules of the State
15 in which it sits.” Veridian Credit Union v. Eddie Bauer, LLC, 295 F. Supp. 3d 1140, 1149 (W.D.
16 Wash. 2017) (quoting Atl. Marine Constr. Co. v. U.S. Dist. Court for W. Dist. of Tex., 571 U.S.
17 49, 65 (2013)). Washington choice of law rules follow a two-step process, first determining 18 whether an actual conflict exists before determining which jurisdiction has the most significant 19 relationship. Id. at 1149–50 (citing Burnside v. Simpson Paper Co., 864 P.2d 937, 941 (Wash.
20 1994) and Johnson v. Spider Staging Corp., 555 P.2d 997, 1000–01 (Wash. 1976)). If no conflict
21 exists, Washington law applies. Id. at 1149. An “actual conflict” exists “when the states’ laws 22 could produce different outcomes on the same legal issue.” Id. (quoting Kelley v. Microsoft Corp., 23 251 F.R.D. 544, 550 (W.D. Wash. 2008)).

1 In support of its claim of “actual conflict” between Washington and Oregon law, Affiliated 2 FM points to Washington Senate Bill 5351 currently pending in the Washington Legislature. See
3 S.B. 5351, 67th Leg., Reg. Sess. (Wash. 2021).<sup>33</sup> Under its terms, Washington law would be 4 amended to provide that the loss of the ability to use an insured property as a result of COVID-19
5 is considered a physical loss of or damage to the property, entitling the policyholder to coverage.
6 See S.B. 5351, 67th Leg., Reg. Sess. (Wash. 2021).<sup>34</sup> But, this Bill is not law, which means
7 Affiliated FM’s asserted conflict is purely hypothetical. The Court is unaware of an Oregon Court
8 ruling on this issue yet, let alone a ruling on this issue in a manner contrary to this Court’s 9 conclusions. The Court, therefore, finds no conflict and will continue to apply Washington law as 10 it presently exists.

12 b. Coverage

13 Aspen Lodging’s claims for coverage must fail. Aspen Lodging is not entitled to coverage
14 under the general Insurance Provided provision because it has not suffered physical loss of or 15 damage to property. It is not entitled to coverage under the Communicable Disease Provisions
16 because it did not plead that the COVID-19 virus was found at any of its locations, a requirement 17 for coverage under this extension.

19 Finally, Aspen Lodging’s claim to coverage under the Civil and Military Authority 20

1 extension fails for all the reasons the Court discussed above. Specifically, Aspen Lodging’s Civil 2 and Military Authority extension requires that a property within five statute miles of covered
3 property be affected by “physical damage of the type insured.” As the Court has already held,
4 COVID-19 does not cause such loss or damage, either to Aspen Lodging’s properties or to 5 properties nearby.

6 For these reasons, the Court will grant Affiliated FM’s Motion and deny Aspen Lodging’s 7 Motion.

9 c. Extra-Contractual Claims

10 Reviewing Aspen Lodging’s Complaint, the Court determines that its Extra-Contractual 11 Claims are based on Affiliated FM’s denial of coverage, an allegation of improper investigation, 12 and conclusory allegations. See Aspen Lodging Compl. ¶¶ 61, 67, 71–76. Based on the Court’s 13 reasoning above, it will dismiss these claims.

14 B. Defendant Aspen American Insurance Company (20-cv-00616)

15 1. Case Background

16 Prior to consolidation, five plaintiffs advanced claims against Aspen American Insurance
17 Company.<sup>35</sup> The Court consolidated all five actions under the Marler case. See Marler, Order of 18 Consolidation, No. 20-cv-00616, Dkt. No. 41. After consolidation, four of the Plaintiffs (Marler, 19 Aylen, Jagow, and Mikkelson) filed a consolidated amended class action complaint, advancing

8 Aspen Am. Ins. Co., No. 21-cv-00342. The case was reassigned to the undersigned, id., Dkt. No.

10 pending therein, id., Resp., Dkt. No. 7 at 1. As such, the Court ordered Manly consolidated with 11 Marler under case number 20-cv-00616. Id., Min. Order, Dkt. No. 8.

13 2. Disposition

14 a. Coverage

15 All Plaintiffs advancing claims against Aspen America were issued the materially same
16 insurance policy. See Marler, Def. Aspen Am. Ins. Co.’s Mot. to Dismiss Consolidated Class
17 Action Compl. and Tabaraie Compl., No. 20-cv-00616, Dkt. No. 51 at 1, 3 (“Aspen’s Mot.”). For 18 convenience, when referring to the relevant insurance policies, the Court will reference the policy
19 of Wade K. Marler DDS. Id., Decl. of Robin Wechkin, Ex. A, Dkt. No. 51-1 (“Marler Policy”).
20 This Policy includes the familiar Coverage Agreement, which agrees to “pay for all direct physical 21 damage to covered property at the premises described on the Declarations caused by or resulting 22 from any covered cause of loss.” Id. at 8. “Covered Cause of Loss” is defined as “ALL RISK OF 23 DIRECT PHYSICAL LOSS except as excluded or limited in Section II. of this Coverage Part.”

1 Id. at 25. The Policy defines “Damage” to include “partial or total loss of or damage to your 2 covered property.” Id. at 26.

3 The Policy also includes coverage for Practice Income, Extra Expense, and Extended
4 Practice Income. Id. at 10, 11. All three provisions are contingent on direct physical loss or 5 damage.<sup>36</sup>

6 The Policy also includes a Civil Authority provision, which in this instance acts as a 7 coverage extension to the practice income coverage. See id. at 11 (“We will also pay for the 8 following expenses:”), 14 (Civil Authority: “We will pay for the actual loss of practice income
9 and rents you sustain caused by action of civil authority that prohibits access to the described 10 premises due to the direct physical damage to property, other than at the described premises, 11 caused by or resulting from any covered cause of loss.”). Again, as demonstrated in this excerpt, 12 physical loss or damage is a prerequisite to coverage under the Civil Authority.

14 As illustrated by the recitation of the policy provisions above, the Aspen American 15 Plaintiffs’ claims to coverage fail given the Court’s finding that COVID-19 does not cause direct 16 physical loss or damage. All of the coverage provisions include requirements for “direct physical 17 damage” caused by a “covered cause of loss,” which, in turn, requires a “direct physical loss.”

23 the building or blanket dental practice personal property at the described premises caused by or resulting from a 24 covered cause of loss . . .”); 11 (Extra Expense provision: “Extra expense means the extra expenses necessarily 25 incurred by you during the period of restoration to continue normal services and operations which are interrupted due to damage by a covered cause of loss to the premises described . . .”), 11 (Extended Practice Income provision: “Loss of practice income must be caused by direct physical damage at the described premises caused by or resulting from any covered cause of loss.”).

1                   b. Plaintiff Tabaraie's Extra-Contractual Claims

2                   Tabaraie's Extra-Contractual Claims (for Bad Faith and WCPA) fail as well. Reviewing 3 the relevant Complaint, the Extra-Contractual Claims are premised on Aspen American's denial
4 of coverage, an allegation of unreasonable investigation, and conclusory claims that Aspen
5 American violated industry standards or engaged in deceptive practices, none of which are 6 supported by allegations in the Complaint. See Tabaraie Compl. ¶¶ 116–118, 122–127.

7                   The Court will grant Aspen American's Motion to Dismiss and dismiss all the claims
8 against Aspen American Insurance Company.

9                   C. Defendant CNA Financial Corporation (20-cv-00809)

10                   1. Case Background

11                   This matter consists of five separate plaintiff groups (McCulloch, Noskenda, Hong DDS, 12 Hong PLLC, and Owens Davies) and three separate insurance companies (Valley Forge Insurance
13 Company, Transportation Insurance Company, and National Fire Insurance Company of Hartford)
14 consolidated around a common parent company.<sup>37</sup> As each of the three insurance companies
15 named is a subsidiary of CNA Financial Corporation, the Court consolidated these matters under 16 the McCulloch case. See McCulloch, Order on Consolidation, No. 20-cv-00809, Dkt. No. 38.

17                   After consolidation, four of the five plaintiff groups, including McCulloch, Hong PLLC, 18 Hong DDS, and Noskenda filed a consolidated class action Complaint. See Consolidated Am.

4 103. The policies issued to each of the Plaintiffs represented by this Complaint are materially
5 identical in most relevant respects. See id. at ¶ 22; see also McCulloch, Decl. of H. Christopher 6 Boehning, Exs. A–D, No. 20-cv-00809, Dkt. Nos. 51-1–51-4 (Policies of McCulloch, Hong 7 PLLC, Hong DDS, and Noskenda). The only difference in insurance policies is that the policy of 8 Hong DDS includes an extra endorsement for Business Income for Interruption of Practice. See
9 McCulloch, Decl. of H. Christopher Boehning, Ex. B, No. 20-cv-00809, Dkt. No. 51-2 at 88
10 (“Hong DDS Policy”).

12 The fifth plaintiff group, Owens Davies, did not file a post-consolidation complaint and,
13 thus, its pre-consolidation complaint remains operative. See Owens Davies, Compl., No. 20-cv-
14 06155, Dkt. No. 1 (“Owens Davies Compl.”). According to this complaint, Owens Davies owns 15 and operates a law firm in Olympia, Washington. Id. ¶ 5. Its Complaint does not include class
16 allegations. See generally id. Owens Davies advances causes of action for declaratory relief,
17 breach of contract, insurance bad faith, negligence, and claims under the WCPA and IFCA, id. ¶¶
18 70–91. The Firm’s insurance policy does not materially differ from those of the first set of CNA
19 Plaintiffs, except that it includes the same Business Income for Interruption of Practice
20 endorsement as Hong DDS. See McCulloch, Defs.’ Mot. to Dismiss Compl., No. 20-cv-00809, 21 Dkt. No. 50 at 5–8 (“CNA’s Mot. to Dismiss”); McCulloch, Decl. of H. Christopher Boehning, 22 Ex. E, No. 20-cv-00809, Dkt. No. 51-5 at 83 (“Owens Davies Policy”).

25 As the policies are materially the same, the Court will cite only to the Policy of Owens

1 Davies in describing the terms of insurance. In the Businessowners Special Coverage Form, the 2 Coverage clause provides that the insurer “will pay for direct physical loss of or damage to Covered
3 Property at the premises described in the Declarations cause by or resulting from a Covered Cause
4 of Loss.” Owens Davies Policy at 19. “Covered Cause of Loss” is defined as “RISKS OF DIRECT 5 PHYSICAL LOSS” unless otherwise excluded. Id. at 20.

6 The Policy also includes an endorsement (effectively an extension) for Business Income
7 and Extra Expenses, including provisions for Business Income, id. at 41,<sup>38</sup> Extra Expense, id. at 8 42,<sup>39</sup> and Extended Business Income, id. at 42.<sup>40</sup> It also includes an endorsement for Civil 9 Authority coverage. Id. at 67.<sup>41</sup>

14 <sup>38</sup> Stating

15 We will pay for the actual loss of Business Income you sustain due to the necessary “suspension” of your 16 “operations” during the “period of restoration.” The “suspension” must be caused by direct physical loss of or damage to property at the described premises. The loss or damage must be caused by or result from a Covered Cause of Loss.

18 Extra Expense means reasonable and necessary expenses you incur during the “period of restoration” that 19 you would not have incurred if there had been no direct physical loss of or damage to property caused by or resulting from a Covered Cause of Loss.

21 If the necessary “suspension” of your “operations” produces a Business Income loss payable under Paragraph 1. Business Income above, we will also pay for the actual loss of Business Income you sustain during the period that: . . .

22 this extended Business Income does not apply to loss of Business Income incurred as a result of 23 unfavorable business conditions caused by the impact of the Covered Cause of loss in the area where the described premises are located.

24 <sup>41</sup> Stating

25 When the Declarations show that you have coverage for Business Income and Extra Expense, you may extend that insurance to apply to the actual loss of Business Income you sustain and reasonable and necessary Extra Expense you incur caused by action of civil authority that prohibits access to the described

1           2. Disposition

2           a. Coverage

3           Defendants argue there is no coverage under all of the aforementioned provisions based on 4 the fact that COVID-19 does not cause physical loss or damage. See CNA’s Mot. to Dismiss at 5 11–18. Given that the Court has already concluded that COVID-19 does not cause physical loss 6 or damage, it finds no coverage under the terms of the insurance policies.

7           b. Business Income for Interruption of Practice Endorsement

8           Owens Davies and Hong DDS’s arguments relevant to their Business Income for 9 Interruption of Practice endorsement, see Omnibus Resp. at 51–3, also fail. This provision states:

11           This endorsement modifies insurance provided under the following:
12           BUSINESSOWNERS SPECIAL PROPERTY COVERAGE FORM
13           BUSINESS INCOME AND EXTRA EXPENSE

14           The following coverage is added to your Businessowners Special Property
15 Coverage Form:

16           Except as otherwise stated in this endorsement, the terms and conditions of the 17 policy apply to the insurance stated below.

18           This insurance applies only when Business Income Coverage is included with the 19 policy.

20           1. The following changes are made to the coverages of Business Income 21 and Extra Expense, Civil Authority, and Utility Services - Time Element, if 22 attached to this policy:

23           For Loss of Business Income at each scheduled location affected by the 24 suspension of your “operations” we will pay:

25           premises. The civil authority action must be due to direct physical loss of or damage to property at locations, other than described premises, caused by or resulting from a Covered Cause of Loss.

- 1 a. The daily limit shown in the Declarations without reduction for 2 discontinuing expenses or rescheduled clients, but only for the 3 initial 30 days of loss, or portion of a day, for each occurrence, 4 or
5 b. The actual loss of Business Income during the “period of 6 restoration.”

7 For each occurrence you can select either a. or b. above. . . .

8 Owens Davies Policy at 83.

9 Owens Davies and Hong DDS claim that the Endorsement “expanded [the] coverage” 10 provided by their policies and ties it to a “‘suspension of operations,’ regardless of whether [the 11 insured] ha[s] also suffered a physical loss of or damage to property.” Omnibus Resp. at 51. In 12 other words, they claim the Endorsement provided a separate ground for establishing coverage not 13 tied to the physical loss and damage requirements of the Business Income, Extra Expense, 14 Extended Business Income, and Civil Authority provisions.

15 Reviewing the Endorsement, the Court determines that it does not establish independent 16 grounds for coverage. As it makes clear, “[e]xcept as otherwise stated in this endorsement, the 17 terms and conditions of the policy apply to the insurance stated below.” Id. In other words, the 18 Endorsement does not otherwise change the requirements of Business Income and Extra Expense 19 coverage, including that physical loss or damage be present in order to trigger coverage.

20 Instead, as Defendants point out, a straightforward reading of the Endorsement leads to the 21 conclusion that it “provides an alternative method for calculating lost income under the existing 22 Business Income, Extra Expense, and Civil Authority coverages” all of which require physical loss 23 or damage in the first instance. Omnibus Reply at 42; see also id. at 42–46. In other words, the 24 Endorsement claims only to modify the coverage provided in the Business Owners Special 25 Property Coverage Form by providing two options to calculate what the insurer will pay, including

1 (with further limitations) “a. the daily limit shown in the Declarations” or “b. the Actual loss of 2 Business Income during the ‘period of restoration” and then gives the insured the opportunity
3 “[f]or each occurrence you can select either a. or b. above.” Owens Davies Policy at 83. Thus,
4 Owens Davies and Hong DDS cannot rely on the Endorsement to provide coverage where the 5 policy does not otherwise establish coverage.

6 c. Extra-Contractual Claims

7 Only Owens Davies advances Extra-Contractual Claims (for bad faith, negligence, WCPA, 8 and IFCA). Reviewing its Complaint, the Court determines that its Extra-Contractual Claims, in 9 addition to wrongful denial of coverage, are based on allegations of incomplete investigation and 10 unfair practices too conclusory to withstand dismissal. See Owens Davies Compl. ¶¶ 81, 83, 85, 11 87–88, 90.

13 Based on the foregoing, the Court will grant the CNA Defendants’ Motion and dismiss 14 these actions.

15 D. Defendant Fireman’s Fund Insurance Company (20-cv-01079)

16 1. Case Background

17 Prior to consolidation, four cases advanced claims against Fireman’s Fund.<sup>42</sup> The Court
18 consolidated these matters under Vita Coffee. See Vita Coffee, Order on Consolidation, 20-cv-
19 01079, Dkt. No. 36.

2 Weimac LLC v. Fireman’s Fund Ins. Co., No. 21-cv-0025. Based on the similarity in claims, the 3 Court ordered the action consolidated with Vita Coffee. See id., Min. Order, Dkt. 6.

4 None of these five plaintiff groups refiled their complaints after consolidation, so their pre-
5 consolidation complaints remain operative.<sup>43</sup> All include Extra-Contractual Claims.<sup>44</sup>
6 Additionally, none pleads the actual presence of COVID-19 on their premises.

7 Because each plaintiff group retained separate operative Complaints, Fireman’s Fund filed
8 separate Motions to Dismiss.<sup>45</sup> Fireman’s Fund filed its Motion to Dismiss against ES Restaurant
9 prior to consolidation and did not refile it post-consolidation. ES Restaurant, Def.’s Mot. to

2 to consolidation with Vita Coffee and to be bound by the Court's rulings regarding the existing 3 Motions.<sup>47</sup>

4 2. Disposition

5 Fireman's Fund's Motions raise many of the same arguments addressed in the General
6 Findings section. For example, Fireman's Fund argues that Plaintiffs fail to establish a covered
7 loss; that there is no coverage under Civil Authority provisions; and that Virus exclusions also bar
8 coverage.<sup>48</sup> Additionally, Fireman's Fund asserts that ES Restaurant and Naccarato fail to 9 establish coverage under a unique Crisis Event Business Income provision.<sup>49</sup>

10 In response, the Vita Coffee and Worthy Plaintiffs offered three other provisions—
11 Communicable Disease Coverage, Dependent Property Coverage, and Business Access Coverage 12 extensions—which they claim as independent grounds for coverage.<sup>50</sup>

13 a. Coverage

1 Findings section and, thus, the same findings apply, namely that Plaintiffs have failed to show a
2 covered loss, there is no independent coverage under the Civil Authority provision, and the Virus
3 exclusion further bars coverage.

4 First, each of the Policies relies on “direct physical loss or damage” or “direct physical loss
5 of or damage to” covered property to trigger coverage. See Vita Coffee Policy at 30.<sup>52</sup>

6 Second, each of the Policies contains a Civil Authority provision which also requires direct
7 physical loss or damage. See Vita Coffee Policy at 42 (“Such prohibition of access to such location
8 by civil authority must: (1) Arise from direct physical loss or damage to property other than at 9 such location”).<sup>53</sup>

11 exclusions (here called “Mortality and Disease”). See Vita Coffee Policy at 32; Worthy Policy at 6 premises or other property on the covered premises which results in clear,

7 identifiable, internal or external visible symptoms of bodily injury, illness, or death
8 of any person(s). This includes covered premises contaminated by communicable 9 disease, Legionnaires’ disease, but does not include premises contaminated by 10 other pollutants or fungi.

11 Naccarato Policy at 84; ES Policy at 94 (emphasis added).

12 Here, both ES Restaurant and Naccarato’s Complaints fail to plead sufficient facts to show 13 they fulfilled either requirement. Both Complaints fail to plead a “necessary closure.” For 14 example, while Naccarato’s Complaint claims the restaurant permanently closed due to financial 15 hardship, it also states that the restaurant was able to remain open for take-away orders. Naccarato
16 Compl. ¶ 14. Thus, it cannot show a necessary closure as a result of COVID-19. Similarly, ES
17 Restaurant’s Complaint claims that it closed its restaurants on March 16, 2020 and switched to 18 carry-out service at several of its locations. See ES Compl. ¶¶ 31, 42. The same then applies.

19 As such, there is no independent coverage established by the Crisis Event Business Income 20 provision.

21 c. *Communicable Disease Coverage, Dependent Property Coverage, and Business
22 Access Coverage Extensions*

23 Finally, the Vita Coffee and Worthy Plaintiffs rely on three extensions to claim 24 independent grounds for coverage.

25 First, the Communicable Disease Coverage extension provides

We will pay for direct physical loss or damage to Property Insured caused by or

1 resulting from a covered communicable disease event at a location including the 2 following necessary costs incurred to:

- 3 (a) Tear out and replace any part of Property Insured in order to gain access to the 4 communicable disease;
- 5 (b) Repair or rebuild Property Insured which has been damaged or destroyed by the 6 communicable disease; and
- 7 (c) Mitigate, contain, remediate, treat, clean, detoxify, disinfect, neutralize, 8 cleanup, remove, dispose of, test for, monitor, and assess the effects [of] the 9 communicable disease.

10 Vita Coffee Policy at 45–46; Worthy Policy at 49–50.

11 The policy defines “communicable disease” as “any disease, bacteria, or virus that may be 12 transmitted directly or indirectly from human or animal to human” and a “communicable disease
13 event” as “an event in which a public health authority has ordered that a location be evacuated, 14 decontaminated, or disinfected due to the outbreak of a communicable disease at such location.”

15 Vita Coffee Policy at 76; Worthy Policy at 83.

16 This Provision, however, fails to provide coverage for two reasons. First, it requires direct 17 physical loss and damage, which COVID-19 does not cause when present. Second, neither 18 Plaintiff has claimed the actual presence of COVID-19, which is required as a “communicable
19 disease event” must take place at the “location” of “Property Insured.” As neither business 20 documented the presence of COVID-19 on their premises, no public health authority issued an 21 order specifically evacuating either premises in order to decontaminate or disinfect a known 22 outbreak.<sup>54</sup>

24 <sup>54</sup> In these two ways, Vita Coffee and Worthy’s claims differ from those of Vancouver Clinic, whose Communicable 25 Disease provisions provided coverage. See supra at 35, 37. Vancouver Clinic’s provisions did not require physical loss or damage, where Vita Coffee and Worthy’s policies do. Additionally, while Vancouver Clinic plead actual presence, Vita Coffee and Worthy did not.

1 Next, the Dependent Property Coverage extension provides:

2 (1) We will pay for actual loss of business income and necessary extra expense you 3 sustain due to the necessary suspension of operations during the period of 4 restoration at a location.

5 (2) The suspension must be due to direct physical loss or damage at the location of 6 a dependent property, situated inside or outside of the Coverage Territory, caused 7 by or resulting from a covered cause of loss.

8 Vita Coffee Policy at 42; Worthy Policy at 45.

9 Again, the Provision requires direct physical loss or damage, which the Court has held 10 COVID-19 does not cause.

11 Finally, the Business Access Coverage extension is also unavailable because it too relies 12 on physical loss or damage. As it provides,

13 We will pay for the actual loss of business income and necessary extra expense you 14 sustain due to the necessary suspension of operations at a location if access to such 15 location is impaired or obstructed. Such impairment or obstruction must: (1) Arise
16 from direct physical loss or damage to property other than at such location; and (2)
17 Be caused by or result from a covered cause of loss;

18 Vita Coffee Policy at 42; Worthy Policy at 44.

19 Based on the foregoing, none of the three extensions provide independent grounds for 20 coverage. No Fireman's Fund Plaintiff has established a claim for coverage under its policy.

21 3. Extra-Contractual Claims

22 Reviewing the Fireman's Fund Plaintiffs' operative Complaints, the Court determines that 23 none has plead conduct independent of unreasonable denial of claims, insufficient investigation, 24 and conclusory claims of deceptive practices sufficient to support their Extra-Contractual Claims.
25 See Vita Coffee Compl. ¶¶ 4.3, 4.13, 4.15; ES Compl. ¶¶ 65, 68–71, 79; Worthy Compl. ¶¶ 78– 79, 86, 90, 98–99; Naccarato Compl. ¶¶ 49–51, 54; Weimac Compl. ¶¶ 71–73, 78–79, 84. As such, these claims also fail.

1 Based on the foregoing, the Court will grant Fireman Fund’s Motions to Dismiss, and 2 dismiss all claims against it.

3 E. Defendant Hanover Insurance Group, Inc. (20-cv-05437)

4 1. Case Background

5 Two actions are advanced against Hanover subsidiaries. The first is Caballero v. Mass.
6 Bay Ins. Co., No. 20-cv-05437. As part of consolidated briefing, Massachusetts Bay filed its 7 Motion to Dismiss Caballero’s claims on January 15, 2021. Id., Def.’s Rule 12 Mots. Against Pl.’s
8 First Am. Compl., Dkt. No. 56 (“Mass. Bay’s Mot. to Dismiss”). Caballero opposed this Motion 9 through the Omnibus Response. Id., Pls.’ Omnibus Opp’n to Defs.’ Mots. to Dismiss, Dkt. No.
10 63.

12 The second action is Walker & Kraus DDS PLLC v. Citizens Ins. Co. of Am., No. 21-cv-13 00345, which was filed on March 12, 2021. As Massachusetts Bay’s Motion to Dismiss was 14 already pending in the Caballero action, and the claims were substantially similar, the Parties in 15 Walker & Kraus agreed to consolidate with Caballero, adopt the Motion to Dismiss filed therein, 16 and abide by this Court’s ruling resolving the Motion. Id., Dkt. No. 13 (Stipulation and Order on 17 Consolidation).

19 2. Disposition

20 Massachusetts Bay’s Motion raises all the familiar grounds: lack of direct physical loss or 21 damage; lack of coverage under Extended Business Income Coverage, Civil Authority, Denial of 22 Access Coverage extensions; and applicability of a Virus exclusion. Mass. Bay’s Mot. to Dismiss 23 at 7–16.

25 Examining Caballero’s Policy, the Court finds all of its general findings apply. First, the

1 Policy requires “direct physical loss of or damage to a described premises” in order to trigger
2 coverage. Caballero Policy at 66. The Extended Business Income and Civil Authority extensions
3 require coverage for Business Income as a condition precedent. Id. at 67 (Extended Business
4 Income: “If no Business Income Coverage is provided under this Coverage Form, then there is no
5 Extended Business Income Coverage afforded under this Coverage Form”); 69 (Civil Authority:
6 “When Business Income Coverage is provided under this Coverage Form. . .”).

7 The Civil Authority and Denial of Access to Premises extensions also explicitly require 8 “direct physical loss or damage to property within one mile of the described premises.” Id. at 69;
9 see also id. at 25 (Denial of Access to Premises extension).<sup>55</sup> Finally, the Policy includes an 10 applicable Virus or Bacteria exclusion. Id. at 98. As such, the Policy does not provide coverage 11 in these circumstances.

12 Caballero’s Complaint does not include Extra-Contractual Claims. See Caballero,
13 Compl.–Class Action, No. 20-cv-05437, Dkt. No. 1. The Court will grant Massachusetts Bay’s
14 Motion and dismiss the claims against Hanover in their entirety.

to property that is away from but within 2000 feet of the described premises, caused by or resulting from any Covered Cause of Loss covered under this policy.

1 subsidiaries.<sup>56</sup> The Court consolidated these matters under the Chorak case. Chorak, Order on 2 Consolidation, No. 20-cv-00627, Dkt. No. 38. After consolidation, two additional cases filed suit
3 against a Hartford subsidiary. See Seuk v. Sentinel Ins. Co. Ltd., 21-cv-00346; MD Spektor DDS
4 PLLC v. Sentinel Ins. Co. Ltd., 21-cv-00544. The Parties in these additional cases stipulated to

9 After consolidation, several Plaintiffs consolidated their Complaints into a single class

6 2. Coverage

7 The Hartford Defendants issued the same Spectrum Business Owner’s Policies to most of 8 the Plaintiffs. See Hartford’s Mot. to Dismiss at 2–3 n.1. The only outlier is the policy of Seattle
9 Symphony, which is a Special Multi-Flex Business Insurance Policy. Id. at 2–3 n.2. The Court
10 will refer to the policy of Dr. Mario Chorak, DMD, PS to exemplify the Spectrum Business
11 Owner’s Policies, see id., Ex. B, Dkt. No. 56-2 (“Chorak Policy”), as well as the Seattle
12 Symphony’s policy, id., Ex. M, Dkt. No. 56-13 (“Seattle Symphony Policy”).

23 <sup>58</sup> The “Piroshky Plaintiffs” consist of SCRBKR 2017, LLC; Seattle Bakery LLC and CSQBKR2018, LLC; and 24 Piroshky Piroshky Bakery LLC and Piroshky Baking Company, LLC. Omnibus Resp. at iv. While these Plaintiffs 25 filed separate actions and submitted separate Complaints, they run similar businesses selling piroshky and other baked goods at locations such as the South Center Mall, Columbia Center food court, and Pike Place Market. See SCRBKR Compl. ¶¶ 2.1; Seattle Bakery Compl. ¶¶ 2.1–2.2; Piroshky Piroshky Compl. ¶¶ 2.1–2.2. It is not clear from the face of the Complaints how inter-related these companies and businesses are.

1 coverage in the first instance. Chorak Policy at 40;<sup>59</sup> Seattle Symphony Policy at 70.<sup>60</sup> Further,
2 both Policies' Civil Authority provisions require direct physical loss. Chorak Policy at 32,<sup>61</sup> 41;<sup>62</sup>
3 Seattle Symphony Policy at 56, 85.<sup>63</sup>

4 As such, for all the reasons detailed previously, the Court finds that the Policies fail to 5 trigger coverage under either provision.

6 3. Seattle Symphony's Virus Exclusion

7 Seattle Symphony's arguments regarding its Virus exclusion write-off are not persuasive.

10
11 <sup>59</sup> Stating

12 We will pay for the actual loss of Business Income you sustain due to the necessary suspension of your
13 "operations" during the "period of restoration." The suspension must be caused by direct physical loss of 14 or physical damage to property at the "scheduled premises," including personal property in the open (or in a vehicle) within 1,000 feet of the "scheduled premises", caused by or resulting from a Covered Cause of Loss.

15 <sup>60</sup> Stating

16 We will pay up to the Special Business Income Limit of Insurance stated in the Property Choice – Schedule of Premises and Coverages for the actual loss of Business Income you sustain and the actual, necessary and reasonable Extra Expense you incur due to the necessary interruption of your business operations during the Period of Restoration due to physical loss of or direct physical damage to property caused by or 18 resulting from a Covered Cause of loss at "scheduled Premises" . . .

19 <sup>61</sup> Stating

20 3. Covered Cause of Loss

RISKS OF DIRECT PHYSICAL LOSS. . .

21 <sup>62</sup> Stating

22 q. Civil Authority

23 (1) This insurance is extended to apply to the actual loss of Business Income you sustain when access to your "scheduled premises" is specifically prohibited by order of a civil authority as the direct result of a Covered Cause of Loss to property in the immediate are of your "scheduled premises."

24 <sup>63</sup> Stating the same as the Chorak Policy but defining Covered Cause of Loss as

25 Covered Causes of Loss means direct physical loss or direct physical damage that occurs during the Policy
Period and in the Coverage Territory unless the loss or damage is excluded or limited in this policy.

1 The policy in question contains a “Fungus, Wet Rot, Dry Rot, Bacteria or Virus” exclusion, which 2 excludes damages caused by the “[p]resence, growth, proliferation, spread or any activity of 3 ‘fungus,’ wet rot, dry rot, bacteria or virus.” Seattle Symphony Policy at 86. The Policy, however,
4 also includes a Washington State Specific Endorsement, which deletes this exclusion. Id. at 45.<sup>64</sup>

5 Seattle Symphony argues that the Endorsement’s removal of the Virus exclusion
6 demonstrates “that the average purchaser of insurance would reasonably interpret the Hartford
7 policy to extend coverage for the ‘physical loss of or damage to’ property caused by a virus.”
8 Omnibus Resp. at 45; see id. at 44–46. The Symphony’s argument is that the inclusion of the 9 Virus exclusion in the first instance demonstrates that “physical loss or damage” covers harms by 10 viruses, which must then be excluded. Further, the endorsement’s removal of the Virus exclusion
11 then demonstrates the Parties’ intent that the Symphony’s Policy should cover such losses.
12

13 Hartford rebuts the Symphony’s arguments, contending that removal of an exclusion
14 cannot, by itself, create coverage where none exists in the first place. Omnibus Reply at 35–36.
15

---

17
18

20 “FUNGUS”, WET ROT, DRY ROT, BACTERIA AND VIRUS – REMOVAL OF LIMITATIONS –
21 WASHINGTON

22 This endorsement modifies insurance provided under the following:

23 PROPERTY CHOICE COVERAGE PART

24 The Following applies to insured risks situated in Washington:

25 . . .

B. Applicable to the PROPERTY CHOICE – COVERED CAUSES OF LOSS AND EXCLUSIONS FORM:

Specific Exclusion – “Fungus”, Wet Rote, Dry Rot, Bacteria or Virus is deleted.

1 The Court agrees.

2         Reviewing the Policy, it is clear that the write-off does not seek to alter the requirement for 3 direct physical loss or damage. Rather, it simply removes an exclusion. Seattle Symphony seems 4 to concede as much, recognizing that the “endorsement deleting the virus exclusion [does not]
5 override the plain language of the Hartford policy.” Omnibus Resp. at 44. Instead, its argument 6 is that the endorsement merely “provides further evidence that Hartford intended the policy to 7 extend coverage for ‘physical loss of or damage to’ property.” Id. The Court, however, has found
8 that the term does not include the losses Seattle Symphony alleges, and deletion of an exclusion
9 does not provide sufficient evidence to conclude otherwise.
10

11         4. Piroshky Plaintiffs’ Additional Grounds for Coverage

12         The Piroshky Plaintiffs allege that additional grounds for coverage are found in the Food
13 Contamination Coverage and Dependent Property Coverage provisions located in their policies.<sup>65</sup>
14 See Omnibus Resp. at 47–50. Hartford argues that neither provision creates independent grounds 15 for coverage. See Omnibus Reply at 36–42. Hartford is correct.
16

17         a. Food Contamination Coverage

18         The Food Contamination Coverage provision states that

19         We will pay the actual loss of Business Income and Extra Expense if your 20         “operations” at any “scheduled premises” are ordered by a government authority to 21         be suspended due to the discovery of or the suspicion of “food contamination.”

21 Piroshky Policy at 143.
23

24 <sup>65</sup> The relevant provisions in each of the Piroshky Plaintiffs’ policies do not differ. As such, the Court will refer
25 only to the Policy of Piroshky Piroshky Bakery, LLC. See Chorak, Hartford’s Mot. to Dismiss, Ex. I, Dkt. No. 56-9 (“Piroshky Policy”).

1 The Policy defines “Food Contamination” as

2 The incidence of food poisoning to one or more of your patrons that is caused by 3 or results from tainted food you purchased, improperly stored, handled or prepared, 4 or a communicable disease that was transmitted by you or one or more of your employees.

6 The Piroshky Plaintiffs contend that the Food Contamination Coverage provision provides 7 coverage independent of the presence of direct physical loss or damage and does not require actual 8 food contamination, instead merely the suspicion of food contamination or the transmission
9 directly from waiter to patron. Omnibus Resp. at 47–49. Hartford argues there is no coverage
10 under the Food Contamination Coverage provision because (1) the restaurants’ operations were 11 not suspended as they continued to conduct carry out and delivery service throughout the 12 pandemic; (2) they cannot show an incidence of “food poisoning”; and (3) the Governor’s
13 Proclamations were not based on the discovery or suspicion of a food contamination, but, instead, 14 based on a global pandemic. Omnibus Reply at 36–39.

17 The Court finds the Provision inapplicable. COVID-19 is not a food-borne illness, as it is 18 transmitted through exposure to the airborne respiratory fluids of contagious individuals.
19 Adopting the Piroshky Plaintiffs’ theory that a food contamination provision is applicable because 20 of waiter-patron transmission regardless of the presence of a food-borne illness would strain the 21 Provision beyond recognition. See, e.g., Food Poisoning, Merriam-Webster.com,
22 <https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/food%20poisoning> (last visited May 28, 2021)
23 (defining food poisoning as “an acute gastrointestinal disorder caused by bacteria or their toxic 24 products or by chemical residues in food.”). Furthermore, Plaintiffs fail to point to any incidence 25

1 of food poisoning or food contamination. See Nashville Underground, LLC v. AMCO Ins. Co.,
2 No. 20-cv-00426, 2021 WL 826754, at *4–*11 (M.D. Tenn. Mar. 4, 2021) (finding similar Food
3 Contamination provision did not provide coverage as a result of COVID-19); see also Whiskey
4 River on Vintage, 2020 WL 7258575, at *17.

5 b. Dependent Property Coverage

6 The Dependent Property Coverage provision states that

7 We will pay for the actual loss of Business Income you sustain due to direct 8 physical loss or physical damage at the premises of a dependent property caused by 9 or resulting from a Covered Cause of Loss.

10 Piroshky Policy at 43.

11 The Piroshky Plaintiffs claim that the Dependent Property Coverage provision triggers 12 coverage when COVID-19 positive clients (who are themselves suffering direct physical loss or 13 damage from the virus) fail to frequent their restaurants due to the disease. Id. at 49–50.
14 Defendants argue the Dependent Property Coverage does not apply based on the fact that it too
15 requires direct physical loss or damage. Omnibus Reply at 39–42.

16 The Piroshky Plaintiffs’ argument fails. The Dependent Property Coverage provision 17 relies on direct physical loss or physical damage, which the Court has held that COVID-19 does 18 not cause to property. Furthermore, Plaintiffs’ strained theory that its clientele constitutes 19 dependent property who are themselves suffering physical damage is untenable. The Policy
20 defines “Dependent Property” as “property owned, leased or operated by others whom you depend 21 on to: . . . (b) Accept your products or services.” Piroshky Policy at 42. This was clearly not 22 intended to include restaurant patrons.
23
25

1                   5. Extra-Contractual Claims

2                   Based on the foregoing, the Court finds no coverage under any of the applicable policies.
3                   Reviewing the relevant Complaints, the Court determines that all of the plead Extra-Contractual
4                   Claims should also be dismissed as they are premised on allegations of unreasonable denial of 5                   coverage, incomplete investigations, and conclusory allegations of violations of consumer
6                   protection regulations which are unsupported by Plaintiffs' Complaints.<sup>66</sup>

7                   The Court will grant Hartford's Motion to Dismiss in its entirety.

8                   G. Defendant Liberty Mutual Holding Company Inc. (20-cv-00620)

9                   1. Case Background

10                   Prior to consolidation, three plaintiffs (Pacific Endodontics PS, Hirbod H. Rowshan DDS 11                   PS, and Cascadia Dental Specialists Inc.) advanced claims against Liberty Mutual subsidiaries.<sup>67</sup>
12                   The Court consolidated these actions under the Pacific Endodontics case. Pacific Endodontics, 13                   Order on Consolidation, No. 20-cv-00629, Dkt. No. 37.
14

15                   The Plaintiffs in these actions did not refile their Complaints post consolidation. As such, 16                   their pre-consolidation Complaints remain operative.<sup>68</sup> None advance Extra-Contractual Claims.

17                   Liberty Mutual filed only one Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings to dismiss all three

1 actions. Pacific Endodontics, Defs. Am. Fire and Cas. Co., the Ohio Ca. Ins. Co., and Ohio Sec.
2 Ins. Co.’s Mot. for J on the Pleadings, No. 20-cv-00629, Dkt. No. 46 (“Liberty Mutual’ s Mot.”).
3 The Motion includes the familiar arguments regarding lack of direct physical loss or damage, Civil 4 Authority coverage, and Virus exclusion. Id. at 7–21. All three Plaintiffs jointly filed the Omnibus
5 Response in opposition. Id., Omnibus Resp., Dkt. No. 53.

6 2. Disposition

7 All three policies fail to provide coverage.<sup>69</sup> All three Policies are contingent on “direct 8 physical loss of or damage to Covered Property.” Pacific Endodontics Policy at 39; Cascadia
9 Policy at 37; Rowshan Policy at 41. The Policies’ Civil Authority extensions also require physical 10 loss or damage. Pacific Endodontics Policy at 48; Cascadia Policy at 46; Rowshan Policy at 50.<sup>70</sup>
11 Additionally, the Policies include an applicable Virus exclusion. Pacific Endodontics Policy at

14 The Court will grant Liberty Mutual’s Motion and dismiss all claims against it.

15 H. Defendant Dentists Insurance Company (20-cv-00661)

16 1. Case Background

17 Mark Germack DDS is the only plaintiff to file a claim against the Dentists Insurance

---

22 <sup>69</sup> See Liberty Mutual’ s Mot., Ex. A, Dkt. No. 46-1 (“Pacific Endodontics Policy”); id., Ex. B, Dkt. No. 46-2
23 (“Cascadia Policy”); id., Ex. C, Dkt. No. 46-3 (“Rowshan Policy”).

24 <sup>70</sup> Specifically, the Civil Authority extension states that “[w]hen a Covered Cause of Loss causes damage to property
25 other than property at the described premises, we will pay for the actual loss of Business Income you sustain and necessary Extra Expense caused by action of civil authority that prohibits access to the described premises.” Pacific
Endodontics Policy at 48. “Covered Cause of Loss” is defined as “[d]irect physical loss unless the loss is excluded or limited.” Id. at 40. Thus, Civil Authority incorporates the requirements of loss and damage.

1 Company. See Germack v. Dentists Ins. Co., 20-cv-00661. Germack’s Complaint includes no
2 Extra-Contractual Claims. See generally id., Compl.–Class Action, Dkt. No. 1.

3 In response, Dentists filed two motions currently pending before the Court. The first is a
4 Motion to Dismiss Germack’s class action allegations for failure to meet the requirements of FRCP
5 23. Id., Mot. to Strike and Dismiss All Class Action Allegations in Pl.’s Compl., Dkt. No. 11. The 6 second is a Motion for Summary Judgment, which seeks dismissal of Germack’s claims in totum
7 based on the familiar grounds of lack of physical loss or damage, lack of independent grounds for 8 coverage in a Civil Authority provision, and presence of a Virus exclusion. Id., Def.’s Mot. for 9 Summ. J., Dkt. No. 35.

11 2. Disposition

12 Germack’s Policy does not provide coverage for all of the reasons already stated above.
13 See Germack, Decl. of Jeremy Fullenwider, Ex. B, No. 20-cv-0061, Dkt. No. 36-2 (“Germack 14 Policy”). Its terms for Business Income coverage require “direct physical loss of or damage to 15 property at the described premises.” Id. at 12. Similarly, the Policy’s Civil Authority provision 16 applies only where “an action of Civil Authority . . . prohibits access to the described premises 17 because of direct physical loss of or damage to property, other than at the described premises.” Id.

20 As such, the Court will grant Dentists’ Mot for Summary Judgment and deny its Motion to 21 Dismiss as moot.

1 I. Defendant The Travelers Companies, Inc. (20-cv-00597)

2 1. Case Background

3 Prior to consolidation, six cases sought to recover against three Travelers subsidiaries.<sup>71</sup>
4 These matters were consolidated under the Nguyen case. Nguyen, Corrected Stipulated Mot. and 5 Order, No. 20-cv-00597, Dkt. No. 33.

6 After consolidation, all of the Travelers Plaintiffs filed a joint Complaint, which includes
7 no Extra-Contractual Claims. Id., Consolidated Am. Class Action Compl., Dkt. No. 35
8 (“Consolidated Travelers Compl.”). Travelers filed a single Motion to Dismiss this Complaint.
9 Id., Defs.’ Revised Mot. to Dismiss the Consolidated Am. Class Action Compl., Dkt. No. 53. This 10 Motion included the familiar grounds of lack of direct physical loss or damage, lack of independent 11 Civil Authority coverage, and an applicable Virus exclusion. Id. at 7–17.

13 2. Disposition

14 Reviewing the Travelers Plaintiffs’ policies,<sup>72</sup> the Policies contain the familiar requirement
15 for “direct physical loss of or damage to” covered property. Nguyen Policy at 165–66. The 16 Policies’ Civil Authority extension is also contingent on direct physical loss or damage. Id. at 178.
17 Finally, the Policies contain an applicable Virus or Bacteria exclusion. Id. at 290.

25 No. 20-cv-05489.

<sup>72</sup> All of the policies are identical in their relevant aspects. See Consolidated Travelers Compl. ¶ 27. As such, the Court will exclusively refer to the policy of Jennifer B Nguyen DDS PLLC. Nguyen, Defs.’ Mot. to Dismiss the Consolidated Am. Class Action Compl., Ex. A, No. 20-cv-00597, Dkt. No. 44-1 (“Nguyen Policy”).

As such, the Court will grant Travelers’ Motion to Dismiss.

J. Defendant Tri-State Insurance Company of Minnesota (20-cv-01176)

1. Case Background

Only one business, La Cocina de Oaxaca, advances claims against Tri-State Insurance Company. La Cocina de Oaxaca LLC v. Tri-State Ins. Co. of Minn., 20-cv-01176. La Cocina’s Complaint does not include any Extra-Contractual Claims. See id., Compl.–Class Action, Dkt. No. 1. Tri-State moved to dismiss this Complaint on January 15, 2021, id., Def. Tri-State Ins. Co. of Minn.’s Motion to Dismiss the Compl., Dkt. No. 45 (“Tri-State’s Mot. to Dismiss”), and La Cocina participated in the Omnibus Response, id., Pls.’ Omnibus Opp’n to Defs.’ Mots. to Dismiss, Dkt. No. 52.

Tri-State’s Motion includes all the familiar arguments of lack of direct physical loss and lack of coverage under a Civil Authority provision. Tri-State’s Mot. to Dismiss at 7–16.

2. Disposition

La Cocina’s Policy utilizes the familiar “direct physical loss of or damage to” covered property to trigger coverage. Tri-State’s Mot. to Dismiss, Ex. A at 96. The Policy’s Civil Authority provision also requires physical loss or damage. Id. at 114 (“When a Covered Cause of Loss causes damage to property other than property at the described premises. . .”); id. (“The action of civil authority is taken in response to dangerous physical conditions of the Covered Cause of Loss that caused damage. . .”); id. at 132 (“Covered Causes of Loss means direct physical loss unless the loss is excluded or limited in this policy.”).

For all the reasons previously stated, the Court finds that La Cocina’s Policy fails to provide coverage. The Court, therefore, will grant Tri-State’s Motion to Dismiss.
