CASE NO. 2:23-cv-1702-JNW

7 1. INTRODUCTION

8 Three putative class actions are pending against Amazon regarding its 9 refund and exchange policy. Before the Court is a joint motion to consolidate two of 10 the cases, but because consolidation is within the broad discretion of the district
11 courts, the Court considers sua sponte whether to consolidate all three cases and 12 how litigation will proceed in its early stages.¹

13 2. BACKGROUND

14 Plaintiffs Laura Abbott, Sima Hernandez, Melissa Urbancic, and Jill Cappel
15 filed a putative class action against Defendant Amazon.com, alleging Amazon
16 violated its refund and exchange policy by charging them for purchases they had 17 returned. Abbott, et al. v. Amazon.com, Inc., No. 23-cv-1372, Dkt. No 1 (Sept. 5, 18 2023). One month later, Plaintiff Sumeet Srivastava filed a putative class action
19 against Amazon over the same practice. Srivastava v. Amazon.com, Inc., No. 23-cv-
20 1545, Dkt. No. 1 (Oct. 5, 2023).

22 ¹ In re Adams Apple, Inc., 829 F.2d 1484, 1487 (9th Cir. 1987) (“Because 23 consolidation is within the broad discretion of the district court, . . . trial courts may consolidate cases sua sponte[.]”).

1 The Abbott and Srivastava parties filed a stipulated motion to consolidate
2 their cases, but they disagree about whether the plaintiffs should file a consolidated
3 complaint. See Abbott, No. 23-cv-1372, Dkt. No. 30; Srivastava, No. 23-cv-1545, Dkt.
4 No. 19.

5 While their motions were pending, Plaintiff Holly Jones Clark filed another
6 putative class action against Amazon. Jones Clark v. Amazon.com Inc., No. 23-cv-
7 1702, Dkt. No. 1 (Nov. 7, 2023). Clark defines her proposed class as follows:

8 All persons in the United States, who, according to the Defendant's
9 records, were charged by Defendant for failing to return a product that 10 was timely returned in its original condition during the six years prior 11 to the filing of this action.

12 Id. ¶ 43.

13 Clark's proposed class is the same as the proposed class in Abbott. Compare id.
14 with Abbott, 23-cv-1372, Dkt. No. 1 ¶ 86. In its notice of related cases, Amazon
15 describes a complete overlap of the cases: "[T]he proposed nationwide class in [the 16 Jones Clark] matter is identical to the proposed nationwide class in Abbott. And the 17 Srivastava proposed class encompass potential Abbott and Clark class members."
18 Jones Clark, No. 23-cv-1702, Dkt. No. 9 at 2 (Nov. 9, 2023)).

19 3. CONSOLIDATION

20 Rule 42(a) allows district courts to consolidate actions that "involve a 21 common question of law or fact." Fed. R. Civ. P. 42(a). But the cases need not be
22 identical as a prerequisite to consolidation. See id; see also Felix v. Symantec Corp.,
23 No. C 18-02902 WHA, 2018 WL 4029053, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 23, 2018) ("FRCP
42(a), however, does not require the complaints to be identical for purposes of

1 consolidation.”). District courts have “broad discretion under this rule to consolidate
2 cases pending in the same district.” Investors Rsch. Co. v. U.S. Dist. Ct. for the Cent.
3 Dist. of Cal., 877 F.2d 777, 777 (9th Cir. 1989). Courts have “broad discretion” to 4 consolidate cases and may do so sua sponte. In re Adams Apple, Inc., 829 F.2d at 5 1487.

6 The Abbott and Srivastava parties believe that consolidation is warranted
7 because the Abbott Plaintiffs’ and Srivastava’s cases involve the same defendant
8 and overlapping factual and legal issues. See Abbott, No. 23-cv-1372, Dkt. No. 30 at 9 2; Srivastava, No. 23-cv-1545, Dkt. No. 19 at 2. The Court agrees. The Clark case
10 also has the same defendant and overlapping factual and legal issues. To promote 11 judicial economy, ensure consistent results, and to streamline matters overall, the 12 Court GRANTS the parties’ motion to consolidate and consolidates the Clark case
13 sua sponte.

14 Since it’s the lower-numbered case, Abbott will constitute the main docket for 15 the consolidated action, and all future filings must be made under Case No. 23-cv-
16 1372. The case caption will be reformed as “In re: Amazon Return Policy Litigation.”

17 In consolidated cases involving complex litigation, “unified or master
18 complaint[s]” are “used often.” 9A Charles Alan Wright & Arthur R. Miller, Fed.
19 Prac. & Proc. Civ. § 2382 (3d ed.) (collecting cases). Srivastava and Amazon
20 advocate for a master complaint, but the Abbott Plaintiffs contend that a unified
21 complaint is unnecessary considering the derivative nature of Srivastava’s
22 complaint. The Abbott Plaintiffs primary objection, however, is that preparing a
23

1 consolidated complaint will result in “needless delay” and give Amazon a potential
2 tactical advantage in the form of extra time to respond to the plaintiffs’ claims.

3 While this is a legitimate concern, it does not rise to the level of prejudice or 4 override the obvious efficiencies to be gained down the line in directing motion
5 practice and discovery toward one complaint. See Katz v. Realty Equities Corp. of 6 New York, 521 F.2d 1354, 1359 (2d Cir. 1975) (affirming district court’s order
7 requiring consolidated complaints for pretrial purposes in complex litigation suit).

8 Accordingly, the Court finds that a consolidated complaint is appropriate
9 here. But filing the consolidated complaint is the province of interim class counsel,
10 which, as discussed below, has yet to be appointed. See Pecznick v. Amazon.com,
11 Inc., No. 2:22-CV-00743-TL, 2022 WL 4483123, at *6 (W.D. Wash. Sept. 27, 2022)
12 (ordering interim class counsel to file consolidated amended complaint).

13 4. INTERIM CLASS COUNSEL

14 Counsel for the Abbott Plaintiffs and Srivastava cannot agree upon a shared
15 role in representing the putative class and will each seek interim lead class counsel
16 status. The Court also presumes that Clark’s counsel will want a shot at this role or 17 at least a say in this determination. Given the competing attorneys vying for 18 control, the Court finds it necessary to designate interim counsel before class
19 certification to protect the interest of the putative class. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g)(3); see
20 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23 advisory committee’s note to 2003 amendment. The Abbott 21 Plaintiffs, Srivastava, and Clark may file cross-motions seeking appointment as 22 interim class counsel.

5. OTHER MATTERS

The parties discuss various other matters in their joint motion: the timing of a Rule 26(f) conference, the briefing schedule on any dispositive motion, and the deadline for Amazon’s response to the plaintiff’s complaints if a consolidated complaint is not ordered. See Abbott, No. 23-cv-1372, Dkt. No. 30 at 3,6; Srivastava, No. 23-cv-1545, Dkt. No. 19 at 3,6.

But interim class counsel must be settled before the Court and the parties can address these issues in an informed way. So for now, the Court STRIKES the dates listed in the initial scheduling order in Abbott. See Abbott, No. 23-cv-1372, Dkt. No. 19 (Oct. 11, 2023). The Court also STRIKES Amazon’s recently filed Motion to Dismiss in Abbott. See Abbott, No. 23-cv-1372, Dkt. No. 31 (Nov. 8, 2023). The Court will grant Amazon leave to refile its motion after the consolidated complaint is filed.

The forthcoming consolidated complaint will become the operative complaint in the consolidated action, so Amazon’s time to serve a responsive pleading will begin to run once the consolidated complaint is filed. Thus, the Court DENIES Srivastava and Amazon’s pending stipulated motion to extend the responsive pleading deadline as moot. Srivastava, No. 23-cv-1545-JNW, Dkt. No.19.

6. CONCLUSION

20 In sum, the Court ORDERS as follows:

- 21 4.1. The cases captioned as Abbott, et al. v. Amazon.com, Inc., No. 23-cv-

4 the consolidated action, and all future filings must be made under this 5 case number.

Each reply may not exceed 2,100 words.

4.7. Interim class counsel must file a consolidated complaint within 30 days of the Court's order appointing interim class counsel.

4.8. Amazon must serve its responsive pleading within 21 days after Plaintiffs file their consolidated complaint. To the extent that Amazon files a dispositive motion, the parties may propose an alternative briefing schedule.

4.9. The stipulated motion to extend the responsive pleading deadline in Srivastava v. Amazon.com, Inc., No. 23-cv-1545-JNW is DENIED as moot. Dkt. No. 19.

4.10. Amazon's Motion to Dismiss Abbott, et al. v. Amazon.com, Inc., No. 23-cv-1372 is STRICKEN without prejudice. Dkt. No. 31.
