505 D St, Rm 44
Scott AFB IL 62225-5049

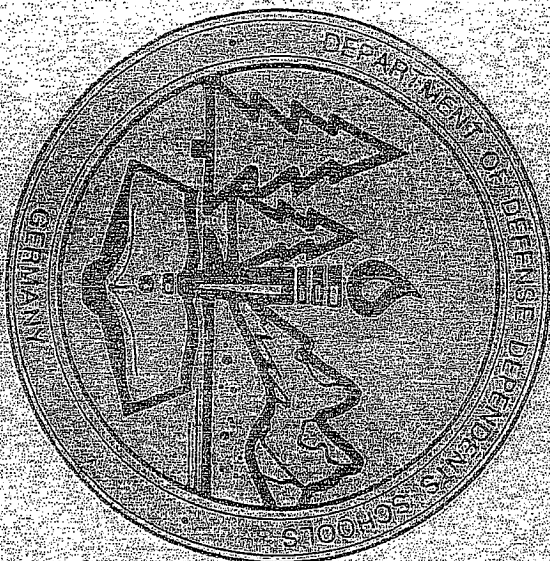

Please convey my appreciation to Capt Margaret Witt, for her outstanding support of the Senior Medical Service Conference, held at Scott. Her presentation on the types of aeromedical missions, types of patients, and overview of the aeromedical evacuation system to spouses accompanying their husbands was well received and contributed significantly to the "best I've ever attended" comments heard from numerous conferees. Again, my thanks for Capt Witt's contribution to our conference.

1. Lt Witt was TDY to our facility from 5 Mar 90 - 25 Mar 90. I found her to be an enthusiastic surgical nurse who willingly worked long hours to accomodate our surgical schedule.
2. As acting OIC she handled all problems head on. Her "Can Do" attitude boosted morale and promoted esprit de corps throughout the department.
3. Lt Witt performed admirably, earning the respect of the surgical staff and the Anesthesia Department. Her poise, attention to detail, independence and self confidence set her apart from her peers. She has great potential and is a valuable member of the Air Force Health Care team. Well done.

IN TURN

I take pleasure in commending Lt Witt to you as someone I would enjoy working with in the future. A dynamic surgical nurse, she possesses sound clinical judgement and has great leadership potential. Lt Witt has a way of putting the patient at ease, they trust her, thus ensuring quality health care. Lt Witt demonstrated remarkable skill in both her surgical knowledge and her ability to work with the individual physician and operating room staff. I feel she should be given every opportunity for growth in the Air Force. Outstanding Health Care team member.

SUBJECT: DUI Prevention Month Participation

TO: 1st Lt Margaret H. Witt, 93 STRAT HOSP

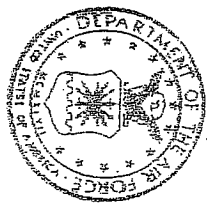

1. I wish to personally thank you for participating in the development of the 93d Bombardment Wing's DUI prevention video "It Can't Happen to Me." Your personal testimonial of how SrA Tammy L. Clark's untimely death affected your life demonstrates exemplary courage and compassion for the welfare of others. The thousands of base personnel who viewed the video during DUI prevention month have a greater appreciation and understanding of the consequences of DUI and a better understanding for prevention. I and several others who viewed it consider the video presentation, "It Can't Happen to Me" to be one of the finest and most effective DUI prevention films we have ever seen. The work that went into creation of the video is one of the most superb examples of caring and teamwork I have witnessed in my Air Force career.

2. On behalf of the Castle AFB community, I salute and commend you for your courageous efforts that will save countless careers, families, and lives of men and women on this installation. If all will continue to work together, we can improve the chances that "It Can't Happen to Us."

Nursing & More

A Good Life
Choice of
The Air Force
Nurse Corps

This is an opportunity for experienced Air Force nurses. Not everyone who applies is accepted, and those who are accepted usually serve a single tour.

An Air Force Nurse

As an Air Force nurse, you'll be part of a military organization. This means wearing uniforms, learning and following regulations and Air Force customs and courtesies. Yes, this is different, but we'll give you the tools you'll need to feel at home.

While you're on active duty you will wear some form of military uniform. It may be scrubs, the battle dress uniform (BDUs) on wards and clinics, or service dress in an administrative setting. There are also uniforms for formal occasions, or for specialized duty such as flight nursing.

After you enter active duty, you'll spend four-weeks and three-days at the Commissioned Officer Training course at Maxwell AFB in Montgomery, Ala.

There you'll learn the military requirements of your new life—such as how to wear the uniform and what the standards are for personal grooming.

For instance, if you're a woman, you don't need to cut your hair short, you just need to wear it in a style that is neat and clears the bottom edge of your collar.

You'll learn who and where to salute and you'll get experience working as part of a team. You'll also develop management and leadership skills. After you complete the course, you'll be sent to your first assignment.

Nursing and More

The Air Force places high value on your nursing skills. Plus, it offers you the opportunity to develop all your talents. Air Force nursing career has both growth and breadth.

As a member of the Air Force Nurse Corps, you'll work side-by-side with some of the best professionals in the field. You'll be an integral part of a team of physicians, pharmacists, dietitians, therapists and other allied health professionals. We'll put our professional expertise to work where it should be—in the care and well-being of our patients.

The Air Force needs nurses who are energetic, honest, dedicated, visionary and caring. If that describes you, there may be a place for you on our health care team.

You may enter with specialized experience or you may get experience after joining our team. Here's a list of the specialties:

- Anesthesia
- Coronary Care
- Family Practice
- Intensive Care

- Medical/Surgical
- Mental Health
- Midwifery
- OB/GYN
- Operating Room
- Pediatrics

Other Opportunities

If you meet the requirements, you may apply for one of our nurse practitioner programs—OB/GYN, midwifery, or anesthesia. Each program offers the opportunity for certification.

At times the Air Force provides emergency medical care during man-made and natural disasters. You may serve on an Air Force Mobility Hospital Team, ready to travel when the need arises. If so, you'll receive regular training in packing and preparing hospital supplies, setting up hospital tents and treating patients during mass casualty conditions.

An exciting, though limited, opportunity is flight nursing. Flight nurses are part of critical care transport teams. This program is open to experienced nurses only, and not everyone is accepted. If selected, you'll attend a six-week course that includes special training in caring for patients under high altitude and shifting cabin pressures. The opportunity for traveling, flying and caring for patients at 30,000 feet is a challenge many nurses want.

Professional Growth

If you want to earn a graduate degree, the Air Force has programs to help you pay expense. Take approved courses during your off-duty time and we'll pay up to 75 percent of your tuition. Also, each year the Air Force sends qualified nurses to full-time graduate study courses at civilian universities. If you're selected, you'll receive your full Air Force salary and we'll pay your tuition and fees. Plus, you'll have opportunities to attend professional seminars and conferences.

Leadership and Management

As an Air Force nurse and officer, you'll have opportunities for formal training as well as hands-on experience in leadership and management. In addition, there's no loss of seniority when moving to other hospitals and clinics.

Aeromedical Evacuation Events

Aeromedical Evacuation crews evacuate sick and injured patients in peacetime, contingency, disaster, wartime and humanitarian environments. AE crew members fly on C-9, C-130 and C-141 aircraft as well as other aircraft on an opportune basis.

During RODEO '96, AE teams will compete in three ground events:

Medical Emergency Scenarios - This event measures the ability of AECMs to provide care for multiple patients. Each team will demonstrate hands-on assessment and emergency interventions on a variety of patients with medical emergencies.

AE Medical Equipment - Pre-flight and operation of numerous pieces of AE medical equipment will be demonstrated. The competition will emphasize proper techniques of pre-flighting medical equipment and correct operation of that equipment, as well as aircraft, patient and AECM safety.

Aircraft Configuration, Patient Enplaning and Pre-departure - Each team will compete on its unit's assigned aircraft (C-9, C-130 or C-141). The competition will consist of a patient brief, aircraft configuration, actual loading of litter and ambulatory patients and completion of pre-departure check lists.

The 375th Airlift Wing accomplishes three important missions. It's responsible for managing a domestic aeromedical evacuation system, providing initial qualification training for all Air Force C-9A and C-21A pilots, and operating Scott AFB, including support to approximately 56 on-base and 29 off-base units.

Since June 1975, the 375th has managed the domestic aeromedical evacuation system, providing timely airlift of seriously ill or injured military personnel, military family members, and other DOD patients to medical treatment centers. In wartime or other contingencies, the aeromedical evacuation system is designed to evacuate battle-casualties from combat areas anywhere in the

A. Mission Description: This evaluation was accomplished in the MCD position with a patient load of 1-0+0. Maj Witt did an excellent job in coordinating with her crew and in review of patient care. Special interest items were reviewed. EPE performed in-flight. Instructor areas satisfactorily reviewed. This evaluation was accomplished out of phase due to known medical procedure requiring extended DNF status. Maj Schindler, 446 OG/OGV, attended the debrief.

This evaluation was accomplished on mission 526 with 5 stops and a total patient census of 3-21+2. Capt Witt flew in the 2FN position on the newly refurbished AC 10595 and demonstrated an excellent recall of all aircraft emergency procedures and equipment use. As an instructor, her understanding and application of adult learning principles and communication skills were exceptional. All duties and responsibilities were completed IAW current directives and guidelines. This No-Notice evaluation will satisfy recurring evaluation requirement pending completion of all exams. Areas I thru X on the AMC Form 918 were accomplished.

MEMORANDUM FOR Capt Starzyk SGNI (IN TURN)

FROM: 57 AES/SGS (STAN/EVAL)

SUBJECT: Supervisory input for upcoming selection board -
ACTION MEMORANDUM

1. There will be a selection board on 17 May 94 to select candidates for upgrade to Instructor Flight Nurse, Flight Nurse Evaluator and Medical Technician Evaluator.
2. As the supervisor of Capt Witt, your input is very important to this selection process. PLEASE provide any information that you feel may be helpful in making that decision. Please be specific and provide examples whenever applicable. Continue remarks on the back of this form as needed. Please forward your input to SGNI no later than 3 May 94 for completion of this form.
  - a. Leadership: Outstanding example of superior leader during Pope AFB disaster. Initially coordinated crew and medical equipment transfer. She then directed her team to Womack Army Medical Center, where she worked with the burn team in patient preparation, equipment setup and transfer of critically injured patients to the flightline. Captain Witt and her crew put in over sixteen hours of hard work, really showing what Aeromedical Evacuation is all about.
  - b. Job Performance/Reliability: As scheduler, Captain Witt displays persistent attention to the job. She displays industriousness, conscientiousness and diligence in performing tasks. When building the flying schedule, Captain Witt always does a superior job; reflecting the perfect balance between mission requirements and personal requests. BOTTOM LINE: Top notch work, always ahead well ahead of suspense
  - c. Communication Skills: Proven under fire during the ORE, Capt Witt successfully kept the lines of communication open between the deployed site and home station. Ensured timely replacements when two nurses went DNIF. Results: Operational Readiness Exercise taskings met without adversely affecting the routine mission.
  - d. Primary Job/Additional Duties: Captain Witt eagerly accepted the challenge of upgrading to Flight Instructor. Her superior teaching skills was evidenced by the metamorphosis of her student - from a untrained flight nurse not exactly sure to a confident, assertive qualified crew member. She will have a second student in May
  - e. Other Comments/Activities:

Captain Witt is a consummate nurse/officer. She constantly strives to improve her knowledge base as evidenced by attending classes to obtain a Master's Degree in Physical Therapy. She also constantly strives to support our mission by teaching AFT's, Ground Egress Training and C12/C21 class. Made our unit shine by crewing orientation flights for over 120 ROTC programs. Captain Witt's transfer to training office is a plus for the training office.

Nomination To Flight Nurse Instructor
Capt Witt

Capt Witt has "what it takes" A Top Performer to be the next Flight Nurse Instructor

LEADERSHIP:

- As Medical Crew Director, her mission management reflects hard work, high standards, mature interpersonal relationships and leadership.
- As Mission Support Nurse, in mission planning she confidently works with physicians, families, high ranking officials arranging for the best possible service to our customers.
- Versatile leader; Outstanding clinical skills, coupled with superb teaching abilities. Enhancing Medical Readiness, Maggie taught perioperative skills to six labor and delivery room nurses increasing readiness potential by 75 percent for operation Desert Storm. Also provided individual instruction to four newly assigned surgical specialists in the transfer, preparation, and intraoperative care of mass casualties.
- Maggie thrives on responsibility, she expediently coordinated transportation, in-patient care, and billeting for 35 patients and their attendance during an unscheduled overnight stop. The patients received quality care and the mission proceeded smoothly the following day.
- Commander selected Maggie as the Medical Crew Director to transport the Astronaut to Houston
- Professional, "can-do" attitude - Maggie skillfully coordinated the annual squadron picnic in Longackers Park. This certainly was a squadron morale booster.
- Her impeccable professional presence. Maintains the highest standards of military bearing.

JOB PERFORMANCE/RELIABILITY:

- Skillfully assessed and treated a diabetic patient who began experiencing increases lethargy and disorientation in flight. Her immediate actions stabilized patient and enabled him to continue the mission.
- Expertly coordinated aircraft descent with medical treatment of a patient complaining of extreme ear pain. Averted potential rupture of eardrum and permanent hearing loss.
- Accurately assessed and treated two patients with sudden onset of seizure activity in flight. Immediately administered oxygen, suctioned airway and started intravenous fluid therapy. Patients stabilized and off loaded to medical treatment facility for definitive care. Diverted mission to Buckley Field.

- Inflight sensitive to the needs of all. Acutely aware of the distress and emotional upheaval present in critically ill patients. Her calm manner provides opportunity for verbalization of fears from patient and family.

- Boundless Ability....Hand picked as Health Promotion Coordinator of the Department of Defense directed Health Promotion Program at Castle AFB, California She spent innumerable hours coordinating the logistics needed for multiple projects. She spearheaded numerous projects for over 5,000 active duty personnel, their dependents and retired beneficiaries. Maggie was responsible for the following events which enhanced education and awareness of healthful living which improved readiness, productivity, and morale. Her leadership of the Health Promotion Committee demonstrates a unique talent in the areas of communication and education.

-- Base Health Fair: Educational Programs objective is to be proactive in Health Care to decrease the frequency of hospitalization. The program included information on nutrition, exercise, medication, stress management and reducing risk factors.

-- Anti-Smoking Program, prepared and presented succinct formal briefings which had significantly enhanced the "Anti-smoking Program" Maggie single-handedly organized the American cancer Society's Great American Smoke Out. She personally distributed over 1200 flyers and published four articles in the Valley Bomber deglamorizing smoking.

-- Spearheaded DUI Prevention Video Program "It Can't Happen To Me.". Selected to research, develop and authored a "Health Promotion Video" that was used Command Wide in SAC. One behalf of thousands of Castle AFB personnel who viewed the video during DUI prevention month have a greater appreciation and understanding of the consequences of DUI and a better understanding for prevention.

- Maggie developed a comprehensive system for monitoring skill levels; and authored numerous lesson plans which greatly enhanced the staff's knowledge and technical abilities when she managed the General, Urology, and Plastic Surgery Services in Wiesbaden, Germany

- As Flying Ambulance Surgical Trauma ("FAST") Team Coordinator, Maggie was responsible for assessing the needs and training of 40 staff members. Her individual training efforts and daily communication with the FAST Team Medical Director ensured a highly skilled surgical group, ready to respond to a field emergency at a moment's notice. She consolidated a 20-item checklist reducing preparation time by 50 percent.

- Maggie is a career oriented officer who remains current in her nursing profession and willingly shares her knowledge with others. She has accrued 243 hours of continuing education to maintain her own proficiency.

OTHER COMMENTS/ACTIVITIES

- Examples of Off-Duty community involvement.

-- Maggie continually seeks ways to share her knowledge. She volunteers her off-time in the Physical Therapy Department at Scott Medical Center

-- Currently a Member of the Southern Illinois University (SIU) Medical Student Soccer Team

-- Coached four different varsity sports over the past 12 years. (Basketball, Soft Ball, Tennis and Soccer). Veteran Soccer Coach for the past two seasons a volunteer coach for two High School Girls Soccer Teams.

-- Maggie served as a medical attendant for over 150 Boy Scouts at their annual summer camp and was the First Aide Merit Badge instructor for two summers.

-- California Earth Quake: Maggie aided in the evacuation of San Francisco Marina Area.

-- Despite active involvement in squadron activities Maggie started to pursue her professional goal of obtaining a Master degree in Physical Therapy, on her off duty time.
