WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
9 AT TACOMA

10 ROBERT SMITH, et. al.,

11 Plaintiffs,

13 STATE OF WASHINGTON, et. al.

14 Defendants.

CASE NO. C14-5974 RBL-JRC

ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR IMPOSITION OF SANCTIONS

16 The District Court has referred this 42 U.S.C. § 1983 civil rights action to United States 17 Magistrate Judge J. Richard Creatura pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(A) and (B), and local 18 Magistrate Judge Rules MJR1, MJR3 and MJR4.

19 Presently pending before the Court is the plaintiffs' Motion for Imposition of Sanctions 20 ("Motion") filed on July 27, 2016. Dkt. 109. Defendants have opposed the Motion. Dkt. 113. The 21 Court, in its discretion, denies plaintiffs' Motion without prejudice because plaintiffs have failed 22 to demonstrate that they have complied with the "meet and confer" requirements of attempting to 23 resolve discovery disputes with defendants without court intervention.

1 Plaintiffs contend that defendants have provided plaintiffs with excessive discovery by 2 providing nonresponsive documents. Dkt. 109 at 13. Plaintiffs next allege that defendants and 3 defendants' attorneys intentionally withheld responsive documents. Dkt. 109 at 13. Plaintiffs 4 have additionally requested sanctions because the defendants' third supplemental response 5 initially failed to contain the "Statement of Attorney" and certificate of service, as well as the 6 brief confusion regarding who the boxes were directed to. Id. On July 19, 2016, four boxes, one 7 for each plaintiff, were provided to the Mailroom at the SCC. Id. at 3. Initially, the SCC 8 Mailroom mistakenly gave all four boxes to plaintiff Kent. Id. Finally, plaintiffs complain that 9 some of the documents were in small font and difficult to read. Id. at 2.

10 Defendants assert that at no time prior to or since filing this motion for sanctions have 11 plaintiffs attempted to meet and confer with defendants to resolve any issues arising in 12 discovery. Dkt. 113 at 2. Further, some of the errors, i.e., lack of signatures, boxes not delivered 13 to each plaintiff, were quickly corrected when discovered. Id. Defendants maintain that their 14 attorneys have acted in good faith throughout the discovery process and have engaged in none of 15 the discovery violations alleged by plaintiffs. Id. at 1. Defendants request that the Court deny 16 plaintiffs' motion for sanctions. Id. Filing any motion to compel discovery requires the party 17 filing the motion to comply with Local Civil Rule 37((a):

18 (a) Motion for Order Compelling Disclosure or Discovery

19 (1) Meet and Confer Requirement. Any motion for an order compelling disclosure or 20 discovery must include a certification, in the motion or in a declaration or affidavit, that 21 the movant has in good faith conferred or attempted to confer with the person or party
22 failing to make disclosure or discovery in an effort to resolve the dispute without court 23 action. The certification must list the date, manner, and participants to the conference. If 24 the movant fails to include such a certification, the court may deny the motion without addressing the merits of the dispute. A good faith effort to confer with a party or person not making a disclosure or discovery requires a face-to-face meeting or a telephone conference. If the court finds that counsel for any party, or a party proceeding pro se, willfully refused to confer, failed to confer in good faith, or failed to respond on a timely basis to a request to confer, the court may take action as stated in CR 11 of these rules.

1 Local Civil Rule 1(c)(6) defines meet and confer as follows:

2 (6) “Meet and Confer” means a good faith conference in person or by telephone to 3 attempt to resolve the matter in dispute without the court’s involvement. The court 4 expects a high degree of professionalism and collegiality among counsel during any meet 5 and confer conference.

6 Generally, sanctions will not be granted until and unless a party violates a discovery
7 order compelling discovery and, therefore, after the parties have met and attempted to resolve 8 discovery disputes without court intervention.

9 “The inherent powers of federal courts are those which ‘are necessary to the exercise of 10 all others,’” and include “the ‘well-acknowledged’ inherent power ... to levy sanctions in 11 response to abusive litigation practices.” Roadway Express, Inc. v. Piper, 447 U.S. 752, 764–65, 12 100 S.Ct. 2455, 2463–64, 65 L.Ed.2d 488 (1980) (quoting United States v. Hudson, 11 U.S. (7 13 Cranch) 32, 34, 3 L.Ed. 259 (1812)). The Court finds that plaintiffs have not provided grounds 14 sufficient to impose sanctions at this time. First, plaintiffs have not demonstrated that they met 15 and conferred in an attempt to resolve these discovery-related issues. Second, at least some of 16 the errors were quickly corrected after brought to defendants’ attention. For instance, the boxes 17 containing the third supplemental response were properly provided to each plaintiff upon 18 discovery of the error. That is the way discovery disputes are suppose to be resolved and does 19 not constitute sufficient grounds for imposition of sanctions.

20 The Court reminds all parties that responding to discovery must be reasonable. Providing 21 documents in tiny font, providing multiple copies of the same documents, and scattering relevant 22 documents among numerous irrelevant documents is not reasonable. The parties are encouraged 23 to meet and confer in good faith in an attempt to resolve or narrow the issues presented in such 24 discovery-related motions. If after meeting and conferring the parties are still unable to resolve the disputes, the Court is always available to do so for them.

1 Finally, the parties are also warned that any violations of discovery rules, Orders or the 2 Local Rules may result in the imposition of sanctions on whomever the Court finds to be 3 violating these rules and orders

4 Accordingly, plaintiffs' Motion (Dkt. 109) is denied without prejudice.
