

1 Under Local Court Rule (LCR) 5(g), motions to seal must include (1) a certification that 2 the parties have met and conferred, and (2) an explanation of the legitimate interests that warrant 3 the relief sought, the injury that will result if the relief sought is not granted, and why a less 4 restrictive alternative to the relief sought is not sufficient.

5 There is no dispute that the parties in this case have met and conferred.

6 There is no dispute that bank routing information should remain under seal. To that 7 extent, GEO's motion should be granted.

8 The parties dispute whether pricing information should remain under seal. GEO 9 represents¹ that it has a legitimate interest in protecting the pricing information as a trade secret, 10 because its release will increase expenses to ICE and cost GEO its competitive bidding edge.
11 Dkt. 20 at 3, 4; Dkt. 26 at 4-6.

12 In response, the State argues GEO has not met its burden to show a compelling reason to 13 redact pricing information, because pricing information is not a trade secret. Dkt. 24 at 5-8. The 14 State relies on Det. Watch Network v. U.S. Immigration & Customs Enf't, 215 F. Supp. 3d 256,
15 265 (S.D.N.Y. 2016), a case where the district court found that pricing information in an ICE-16 GEO contract was not a trade secret under a FOIA exemption. The State also argues that the 17 pricing information "is critical to understanding the relationship GEO has to ICE and the 18 obligations that ICE imposed on GEO." Id. at 8.

19 The Court at present expressly declines to reach the issue of whether the pricing 20 information in the Contract should be public record or should remain sealed. The Contract was 21 filed at the request of the Court, not by the parties, and the Court requested the Contract to better 22

23 ¹ GEO made its showing substantially in the Reply brief. See Dkt. 26; LCR 3(g)(3)(B) ("Evidentiary support from 24 declarations must be provided where necessary.")

1 understand the ICE-GEO relationship central to resolving an underlying motion. Based on its 2 review of the Contract, filed with pricing information redacted, the Court reached the merits of 3 the underlying motion without the need to consider pricing information. See Dkt. 28. Because of 4 the unique procedure that the redacting of pricing information has been raised, the pricing
5 information should remain under seal at present. To that extent, GEO's motion should be 6 granted.

7 This Order should not, however, be construed to limit the scope of discovery, or to be a 8 ruling on the question of whether the entire document should be, ultimately, filed without any 9 redactions or sealing.
