6 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
7 WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
8 AT TACOMA

9 MICHAEL B. MILLER,

10 Plaintiff,

v.

11 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

12 Defendant.

CASE NO. C18-5463RBL

ORDER

14 THIS MATTER is before the Court on the following motions: Plaintiff Miller's Motion
15 to Exclude late- and un-disclosed Expert Witnesses or opinions [Dkt. # 41] and Defendant's
16 Motion for a reduction of the fee charged by Plaintiff's expert. [Dkt. # 43].

17 As to the latter, the fee is high, but the Court has only reduced a fee on one occasion, and 18 that fee was much higher than the one at issue. The Court may re-visit the fee when and if it is 19 evaluating costs. The Motion to Reduce is DENIED.

20 The expert disclosure date was July 5, and the Discovery cutoff was August 5. Miller 21 claims that it fully disclosed its own expert witnesses and their opinions well before they were 22 required to, and that in response the Defendant made only short, tentative disclosures that were 23 apparently meant to be placeholders until they had a chance to examine the Plaintiff. Miller

1 claims he has offered such an examination “for months” before the deadline, but that the
2 defendant failed to follow through. Miller claims the Defendants’ experts hedged their opinions
3 until the examination and until they obtained “raw data” from Miller’s experts. Miller claims the 4 Defendants have yet to disclose any meaningful expert opinions. He provides, for example, Dr.
5 Bouldin’s “Preliminary Independent Medical Report” [Dkt. # 48-3], which describes his 6 qualifications, his understanding of the facts, and the medical records he reviewed. He does not 7 provide substantive opinions, and he clearly anticipates providing a more thorough report, after 8 his examination of Miller:

9 More current medical records provided to me documenting his current state are limited and 10 provide some possibly conflicting information on his current physical state. I therefore am scheduled to 11 evaluate and examine MM in person on July 9, 2019 and with this can more assuredly opine on his current 12 state and future prognosis which will be provided in the future as an amended medical report.

13 [Dkt. # 48-3 at 1]. Miller argues that the Rule 35 examination should have been scheduled in to 14 allow for timely disclosure, and that it is unfair to permit the government to “sandbag” him and 15 wait until (or beyond) the August 5 rebuttal expert disclosure (and discovery) deadline to finally 16 provide any useful opinions.

17 The government argues that the parties agreed to Bouldin’s July 9 Rule 35 exam for the 18 convenience of both sides and that the delay in the exam produced no prejudice. It argues that 19 Miller seeks an “advisory opinion” excluding expert opinions that Miller has not even identified
20 (“Plaintiffs do not explain or identify which of Defendant’s expert reports should be excluded
21 under Rule 37 or why.”)

22 Miller responds that he offered Rule 35 exams “at any time” starting in May, and argues
23 the government scheduled Bouldin’s exam for strategic purposes. He emphasizes that (as of a 24 month ago) the government’s neuropsychologist (Webb) had still not scheduled her own Rule 35

1 exam. He argues he is not seeking to exclude the opinions that were given; he is asking the Court
2 to exclude expert opinions that were not timely disclosed, consistent with the Civil Rules.

3 Rule 26 requires that parties disclose the identity of any expert witness they may use at 4 trial. Rule 26(a)(2)(B) explains that the disclosure must be accompanied by a “written report—
5 prepared and signed by the witness—if the witness is one retained or specially employed to 6 provide expert testimony in the case.” The report must contain the following: “(i) a complete
7 statement of all opinions the witness will express and the basis and reasons for them; (ii) the 8 facts or data considered by the witness in forming them; (iii) any exhibits that will be used to 9 summarize or support them; (iv) the witness's qualifications, including a list of all publications
10 authored in the previous 10 years; (v) a list of all other cases in which, during the previous 4
11 years, the witness testified as an expert at trial or by deposition; and (vi) a statement of the 12 compensation to be paid for the study and testimony in the case.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(2)(B).

13 The parties are required to comply with court-imposed deadlines in making expert
14 disclosures. Rule 37(c)(1) provides that a party who fails to timely identify a witness or provide 15 information is barred from presenting the same at trial, unless the failure “was substantially
16 justified or is harmless.” The burden is on the party facing sanctions to prove that either of these 17 excuses applies. Yeti by Molly, Ltd. v. Deckers Outdoor Corp., 259 F.3d 1101, 1107 (9th Cir.
18 2001). Trial courts have “particularly wide latitude” to issue sanctions under Rule 37(c)(1) when 19 a party fails to adhere to discovery requirements. Id. at 1106.

20 The Court does not agree that Miller seeks an advisory opinion. It is no answer to a 21 motion to exclude “all undisclosed opinions,” to argue that the moving party has not sufficiently 22 identified the opinions it seeks to exclude. The Court agrees that the disclosure rules should not
23 permit a party to sandbag his opponent. It is not fair to allow the government to obtain plaintiff’s
24

1 experts opinions, to depose those experts, and to only then disclose the government's expert
2 opinions, perhaps after the discovery cut-off.¹

3 Miller has demonstrated that the government did not provide the expert disclosures
4 required by the Rules. The result of that failure is "self-executing" under Rule 37(c)(1), absent a
5 showing by the government that its delay was justified or harmless². The Motion to Exclude 6 [Dkt. # 41] is GRANTED, and expert opinions not timely disclosed are excluded, unless and 7 until the government can meet its burden to establish why they should nevertheless be admitted.

8 IT IS SO ORDERED.

9 Dated this 19th day of September, 2019.

¹ It is not clear from the record whether supplemental or rebuttal expert reports have been 20 exchanged, whether expert depositions have occurred, or whether Miller's Rule 35 examinations are complete.

21 ² Rule 37(c)(1) is a "self-executing," "automatic" sanction designed to provide a strong 22 inducement for disclosure. Id. (quoting Fed.R.Civ.P. 37 advisory committee's note (1993)). The 23 only exceptions to Rule 37(c)(1)'s exclusion sanction apply if the failure to disclose is substantially justified or harmless. Fed.R.Civ.P. 37(c)(1). Goodman v. Staples The Office 24 Superstore, LLC, 644 F.3d 817, 827 (9th Cir. 2011).
