07/09/2014	55	 TEXT ONLY ORDER  At a July 9, 2014 telephonic hearing, the court granted in part and denied in part the defendant's motion for protection from discovery (dkt. 35) in the manner and for the reasons stated. Although the record speaks for itself, the court re-emphasizes that in a case this size with a schedule this tight, both sides had better devote sufficient resources to providing quick and complete discovery on all appropriate topics or there will be consequences. The court remains ready to referee further discovery disputes on short notice. Each side will bear its own costs on this motion. Signed by Magistrate Judge Stephen L. Crocker on 7/9/14. 02/24/2015	182	 TEXT ONLY ORDER  Plaintiffs' unopposed motion 173 to extend the briefing deadlines on defendants' February 12, 2015 motion for summary judgment 164 is granted, not because it is unopposed but because the requested extension is inconsequential and will not prevent the court from timely considering the dispositive motion. Plaintiffs' motion 179 to withdraw their first motion 170 to extend expert disclosure deadlines is granted. Plaintiffs' unopposed motion 180 to extend a set of dates in the preliminary pretrial conference order is granted in part. All of the proposed extensions are acceptable and accepted with one exception: the motion to certify a class must be fully briefed and under advisal to the court not later than September 18, 2015. This means that the parties cannot proceed on the 6 week/3 week response/reply briefing schedule they originally proposed. On whatever day plaintiffs file their motion to certify a class, defendant gets this much time to respond: either 2/3 of the time from the motion filing date date until September 18, 2015, or 28 days, whichever is longer. Any remaining time after the response until September 18, 2015 is available for plaintiffs' reply. Even then, the parties should not expect an expedited ruling on a class certification request, which means that in the last three months before trial, counsel will be busy. That said, the February 1, 2016 trial date is not moving as a result of these extensions. This case already is a year old and it will be almost two years old when it is tried. This is a generous schedule for a class action lawsuit in this court, so from the court's perspective, the parties have had and will have more than sufficient time to do what they need to do in this lawsuit. Signed by Magistrate Judge Stephen L. Crocker on 2/24/2015. (kwf) (Entered: 02/24/2015)

In discussion with the parties, the court DENIED the motion for the reasons stated, with one possible exception that requires further input from plaintiffs. Not later than July 15, 2015, plaintiffs must file a letter clarifying for the court any distinction between the nine homeowners who are not named plaintiffs but who have been disclosed to defendant, and any other putative class members who have been in contact with plaintiffs or their attorneys but who have not been disclosed to defendant. If necessary, the court will allow defendant to respond to plaintiffs' letter. The parties had no other matters to bring to the court's attention. Signed by Magistrate Judge Stephen L. Crocker on 7/8/2015. (kwf) (Entered: 07/08/2015)

07/14/2015	251	 TEXT ONLY ORDER  On July 14, 2015, the court held a telephonic hearing on defendant's motion 245 to compel the intervening insurance companies to supplement discovery, and to extend the deadline to file dispositive motions against the insurance companies. In discussion with the parties, the court granted part two of the motion: defendant and the intervening insurance companies may have until August 24, 2015 to file dispositive motions based solely on their dispute over choice of counsel. The court allowed this extension mainly to provide these parties the extra time they requested to attempt to resolve this particular dispute, either on a substantive level or on a discovery level. The court denied the first half of defendant's motion without prejudice. If the parties cannot resolve their discovery disputes on this issue quickly and efficiently, then they must re-present their lingering disputes to the court ASAP so that they get a ruling before August 24, 2015. In approaching the remaining disputes, the parties should take to heart the court's observations and admonitions regarding the cost/benefit ratio in play here. At this juncture, the court is not shifting costs under Rule 37(a)(5), but it has reserved the right to shift these costs against the losing party or parties if this discovery dispute is raised to the court again. Signed by Magistrate Judge Stephen L. Crocker on 7/14/2015. (kwf) (Entered: 07/14/2015)

11/24/2015	439	 TEXT ONLY ORDER  In no recent case has discovery been so incessantly fractious and querulous. The court has read the most recent, still-pending discovery motions and responses. As usual, both sides assert that they are more sinned against than sinning. Duly noted. Having considered both sides' positions in both motions, it is ORDERED that plaintiffs' motion to reopen discovery and for sanctions (dkt. 300) is DENIED, and defendant's motion to quash plaintiffs' noticed de bene esse depositions (dkt. 403) is GRANTED. Discovery in this case is over. Period. Each side will bear its own costs on both motions. Signed by Magistrate Judge Stephen L. Crocker on 11/24/2015. (kwf) (Entered: 11/24/2015)
