

PER CURIAM.

The Department of Children and Family Services has conceded that the dependency order should be reversed because it lacks adequate findings of fact. It has further conceded that the evidence was insufficient to support an adjudication of dependency. We agree. Accordingly, we reverse and remand with directions to return the children to their father.

Reversed and remanded.

FULMER, NORTHCUTT, and SILBERMAN, JJ., Concur.