APPEAL FROM THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE FIRST CIRCUIT
(CIVIL NO. 03-1-1712)

SUMMARY DISPOSITION ORDER

(By: Foley, Presiding Judge, Leonard and Reifurth, JJ.)

Defendants/Counterclaim-Plaintiffs/Cross-Claim

Defendants/Appellants Glenn Nobuki Murakami and Ann Sue Isobe (collectively, Appellants) appeal from the Order Denying Glenn Nobuki Murakami and Ann Sue Isobe's Motion (1) to Disqualify the Honorable Eden Elizabeth Hifo, (2) for a Protective Order, (3) to Set Aside July 28, 2008, Final Judgment and to Expunge All Notices of Pendency of Action Related Thereto, and (4) to Quash All Post-Judgment Garnishment Orders, Writs of Execution, and Debtors' Examination Orders in this Case (Order Denying Disqualification), entered by the Circuit Court of the First Circuit (Circuit Court) on May 5, 2009.^{1/}

The issue on appeal is whether Judge Hifo erred in failing to recuse herself and entering the Order Denying Disqualification.

Upon careful review of the record and the briefs submitted by the parties and having given due consideration to the arguments advanced and the issues raised, we resolve Appellants' contentions as follows:

With their motion to disqualify, Appellants submitted a declaration of counsel and a "Concurring Declaration of Clients" signed by Appellant Murakami. An affidavit or declaration of counsel does not satisfy the statutory requirement for the party seeking disqualification to attest to the disqualifying facts. See Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) § 601-7 (1993 & Supp. 2010); Jou v. Schmidt, 117 Hawai'i 477, 483, 184 P.3d 792, 798 (App. 2008). The only factual assertion set forth in the concurring declaration^{2/} is that for the reasons set forth by counsel, "Ms. Isobe and I also affirm that we do not believe that we can get a fair hearing before the Honorable Eden Elizabeth Hifo in the above-referenced matters and for this Motion, which Judge has demonstrated a personal bias and prejudice against us, and we also feel that she has fostered an appearance of impropriety against us at the very least requiring her immediate disqualification from this case." A conclusory statement of beliefs and feelings is legally insufficient to require disqualification.

HRS § 601-7 requires a moving party to timely file an affidavit "stat[ing] the facts and reasons for the belief that bias or prejudice exists." State v. Ross, 89 Hawai'i 371, 377, 974 P.2d 11, 17 (1998). Specifically, the facts set forth in the affidavit must be sufficient for a "sane and reasonable mind" to "fairly infer bias or prejudice." James W. Glover, Ltd. v. Fong, 39 Haw. 308, 314-15 (1952). Even if we consider the assertions in counsel's declaration to be incorporated into the concurring declaration, the Circuit Court did not abuse its discretion in determining that the statutory requirements were not met. There are no alleged facts demonstrating personal bias on the part of the Circuit Court, other than the bare fact that adverse and allegedly erroneous rulings were made in connection with post-judgment collection-related proceedings. Adverse and allegedly erroneous rulings are not a basis for disqualification. See Ross, 89 Hawai'i at 377-78, 974 P.2d at 17-18.

For these reasons, the Circuit Court's May 5, 2009
Order Denying Disqualification is affirmed.
