COURT OF APPEAL, FIRST CIRCUIT

GLENN RODGERS

NO. 2013 CW 1508

VERSUS

U-HAUL CO. OF
LOUISIANA, ET AL

NOV 08 2013

In Re: U-Haul Co. of Louisiana, applying for supervisory writs, 19th Judicial District Court, Parish of East Baton Rouge, No. 608453.

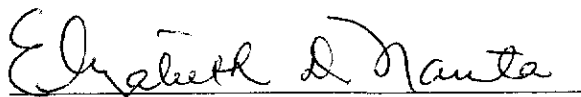

BEFORE: PARRO, KUHN, HIGGINBOTHAM, THERIOT AND DRAKE, JJ.

WRIT GRANTED. The judgment of the trial court dated June 26, 2013, denying U-Haul Company of Louisiana's motion for summary judgment is reversed and the motion is granted. There are no genuine issues of material fact and U-Haul is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. La. Code Civ. P. art. 966(B). This Court finds as follows: (1) The actions of U-Haul Company of Louisiana were not the cause-in-fact of the injuries alleged herein; (2) U-Haul Company of Louisiana did not owe a legal duty to the plaintiff, Glenn Rodgers; and (3) The alleged chain of events were not foreseeable.
