CATHERINE FREEMAN-SPOHRER,

Plaintiff

v.

ORDER

TOM DENNEHY d/b/a
BELFAST COMPANY,

Defendant

This appeal from a Small Claims judgment in favor of Ms. Freeman-Spohrer was heard on June 6. Belfast argues that Ms. Freeman-Spohrer reduced her damage claim to come within the jurisdictional limits of the Small Claims Court, $4,500. Ms. Freeman-Spohrer's complaint asserted damages of $4,500. and the court's judgment in her favor was for $3,900. plus costs. Because both the damages claimed, even if reduced, and the court's judgment are within the jurisdictional limits of the Small Claims court, this appeal must be denied. Ahlgren v. Fabian, 722 A.2d 869 (Me. 1999).
