

STATE OF MICHIGAN
COURT OF APPEALS

JAMES S. DOLL,

Plaintiff-Appellant,

v

DETROIT NEWSPAPER AGENCY and TOMMIE MCLEOD,

Defendants-Appellees.

UNPUBLISHED

July 19, 1996

No. 179059

LC No. 93-000953-CZ

Before: Sawyer, P.J., and Neff and R.D. Gotham,* JJ.

MEMORANDUM.

Plaintiff appeals from an order of the circuit court granting summary disposition in favor of defendants on his wrongful discharge claim. We affirm.

On appeal, plaintiff argues that the trial court erred in granting summary disposition. In ruling on defendants' motion, the trial court filed an extensive, well-written opinion detailing its reasoning for granting summary disposition. We see no need to reiterate what the trial court said. Accordingly, we adopt the trial court's opinion as our own and affirm the grant of summary disposition for the reasons stated in the trial court's opinion.

Affirmed. Defendants may tax costs.
