17 MEMORANDUM OPINION

18 ZAMORA, Judge.

1 {1} Defendant Rodney County appeals from the judgment and sentence resulting 2 from a no contest plea. This Court’s calendar notice proposed to summarily affirm.
3 Defendant filed a memorandum in opposition, and moves to amend the docketing
4 statement with two issues. [MIO 6] Not persuaded by Defendant’s arguments, we 5 affirm.

6 {2} Defendant continues to argue that the district court erred in denying his motion 7 to continue, which was requested so that Defendant could submit a motion to 8 withdraw his plea. [Amended DS 9; MIO 6] Defendant does not assert any error with 9 this Court’s proposed disposition of the issue. [MIO 5] See State v. Mondragon, 1988-
10 NMCA-027, ¶ 10, 107 N.M. 421, 759 P.2d 1003 (stating that “[a] party responding 11 to a summary calendar notice must come forward and specifically point out errors of 12 law and fact[,]” and the repetition of earlier arguments does not fulfill this 13 requirement). However, related to that issue, Defendant moves to amend the docketing 14 statement with two issues: (1) whether the district court judge improperly denied 15 Defendant an evidentiary hearing on his motion to withdraw his plea and to allow 16 counsel to withdraw, and (2) whether his counsel’s failure to request an evidentiary 17 hearing or submit a motion, as directed by the district court judge, amounts to 18 ineffective assistance counsel. [MIO 6] Defendant expressly abandons Issue II of the 19 amended docketing statement. [MIO 6]

1 {3} In cases assigned to the summary calendar, this Court will grant a motion to 2 amend the docketing statement to include additional issues if the motion (1) is timely,
3 (2) states all facts material to a consideration of the new issues sought to be raised, (3) 4 explains how the issues were properly preserved or why they may be raised for the 5 first time on appeal, (4) demonstrates just cause by explaining why the issues were not 6 originally raised in the docketing statement, and (5) complies in other respects with 7 the appellate rules. See State v. Rael, 1983-NMCA-081, ¶¶ 7-8, 10-11, 14-17, 100
8 N.M. 193, 668 P.2d 309. This Court will deny motions to amend that raise issues that 9 are not viable, even if they allege fundamental or jurisdictional error. See State v.
10 Moore, 1989-NMCA-073, ¶¶ 36-51, 109 N.M. 119, 782 P.2d 91, superseded by rule
11 on other grounds as recognized in State v. Salgado, 1991-NMCA-044, 112 N.M. 537, 12 817 P.2d 730.

13 {4} Defendant asserts that at both the arraignment and adjudicatory hearings on his 14 supplemental criminal information, he requested to withdraw his plea, and on neither 15 occasion did the judge take evidence, but relied only on the arguments of counsel,
16 which are not evidence. [MIO 6] Defendant further asserts that at two different 17 hearings, he requested that his trial attorney be permitted to withdraw as counsel, and 18 despite trial counsel reminding the judge he had yet not heard from Defendant, 19 Defendant was not permitted to testify on the record. [MIO 7] Defendant claims that

1 the judge should have held an evidentiary hearing sua sponte to permit Defendant to 2 testify as to why his plea was involuntary and why his trial counsel should be relieved
3 of representation. [Id.] Defendant contends that the judge abused his discretion in not 4 permitting Defendant to testify on the record, particularly given that his attorney
5 reminded the judge that Defendant had not yet been given the opportunity to speak.
6 [Id.]

7 {5} Defendant relies on an unpublished memorandum opinion from this Court, 8 wherein we reversed and remanded for an evidentiary hearing on the basis that the 9 district court relied on its prior determination of the voluntariness of Defendant’s plea
10 based on its colloquy with Defendant and did not conduct a hearing after Defendant’s 11 post-conviction allegations of involuntariness. See State v. Torres, No. A-1-CA-12 35180, 2017 WL 3484104, ___-NMCA-___, ¶ 14, ___P.3d___ (July 24, 2017) (non-13 precedential). Even if we were to rely on non-precedential cases, which we do not, see 14 Rule 12-405(C), (D) NMRA (stating that non-reported cases are not precedent), that 15 case is distinguishable. There, the defendant filed a written motion, alleged twenty-16 eight deficiencies with his prior counsel’s performance, asserted that prior counsel
17 coerced him into taking the plea, requested an evidentiary hearing, and at that hearing, 18 “explained the basis for [the] motion, and requested to supplement the record with 19 affidavits or testimony.” ___-NMCA-___, ¶ 4.

1 {6} In contrast, here, trial counsel requested to withdraw the plea, but did not file
2 a written motion, as requested by the trial judge. [MIO 9, 10] Defendant indicates that 3 trial counsel alerted the trial judge of his desire to withdraw his plea, and that he 4 alleged off the record occurrences, which were not within the trial judge’s knowledge, 5 but still fails to inform this Court on what specific legal basis he asserted he was 6 relying on to withdraw his plea, and whether that was communicated to the trial judge.
7 [MIO 4, 6, 8] Defendant seems to fault the judge for not sua sponte conducting a 8 hearing when trial counsel expressed Defendant’s general desire to withdraw the plea.
9 However, a trial judge is warranted in refusing an evidentiary hearing where the 10 defendant’s claims either do not “state grounds for relief” or are “contradicted by 11 occurrences on the record or within the judge’s personal knowledge.” State v. Guerro, 12 1999-NMCA-026, ¶ 26, 126 N.M. 699, 974 P.2d 669. We cannot assess these factors 13 without knowing on what legal basis Defendant asserted he relied to withdraw his 14 plea. Defendant asserts on appeal that his plea was coerced by trial counsel, but 15 acknowledges there is no evidence of this in the record. [MIO 6] Absent a record that 16 the trial judge was expressly advised of the reason an evidentiary hearing was 17 necessary, we cannot say that the district court abused its discretion, and as a result 18 the issue is not viable.

1 {7} To the extent Defendant moves to amend the docketing statement with the issue
2 of ineffective assistance of counsel, we determine that the issue is also not viable. “To 3 evaluate a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel, we apply the two-prong test in 4 Strickland v. Washington, [466 U.S. 668, 687 (1984)].” State v. Dylan J., 2009-5 NMCA-027, ¶ 36, 145 N.M.719, 204 P.3d 44. “That test places the burden on the 6 defendant to show that his counsel’s performance was deficient and that the deficient
7 performance prejudiced his defense.” Id. “When an ineffective assistance claim is first 8 raised on direct appeal, we evaluate the facts that are part of the record.” State v.
9 Roybal, 2002-NMSC-027, ¶ 19, 132 N.M. 657, 54 P.3d 61.

10 {8} Our Supreme Court has expressed a preference that ineffective assistance of 11 counsel claims be adjudicated in habeas corpus proceedings, rather than on direct 12 appeal. See Duncan v. Kerby, 1993-NMSC-011, ¶ 4, 115 N.M. 344, 851 P.2d 466; see 13 also State v. Grogan, 2007-NMSC-039, ¶ 9, 142 N.M. 107, 163 P.3d 494. “This 14 preference stems from a concern that the record before the [district] court may not 15 adequately document the sort of evidence essential to a determination of trial
16 counsel’s effectiveness.” State v. Schoonmaker, 2008-NMSC-010, ¶ 31, 143 N.M.
17 373, 176 P.3d 1105 (internal quotation marks and citation omitted), overruled on 18 other grounds by State v. Consaul, 2014-NMSC-030, ¶ 38, 332 P.3d 850. That is 19 precisely the case here; Defendant acknowledges there is no record below [MIO 6],

1 which is often the case, and without a record, we cannot assess whether counsel’s
2 performance in failing to file a written motion was deficient or whether Defendant was 3 prejudiced by such failure. See Dylan J., 2009-NMCA-027, ¶ 38 (providing that a 4 defense is prejudiced if, as a result of the deficient performance, “there was a 5 reasonable probability that the result of the trial would have been different” (omission,
6 internal quotation marks, and citation omitted) ). If Defendant so chooses, he can 7 pursue his claims via habeas corpus. See State v. Grogan, 2007-NMSC-039, ¶ 9, 142
8 N.M. 107, 163 P.3d 494 (expressing a preference for habeas corpus proceedings to 9 address ineffective assistance of counsel claims); Roybal, 2002-NMSC-027, ¶ 19 (“If 10 facts necessary to a full determination are not part of the record, an ineffective 11 assistance claim is more properly brought through a habeas corpus petition[.]”).
12 Defendant’s motion to amend the docketing statement is therefore denied.

13 {9} For these reasons, and those stated in the calendar notice, we affirm.
