The motion by plaintiff for a judgment of foreclosure and sale is granted and the cross-motion by defendant Stanmore to vacate his default and to dismiss the complaint is denied.

Background

In this mortgage foreclosure action, plaintiff moves to confirm the report of the referee, which found that plaintiff is due $587,165.83 as of June 30, 2019. Stanmore opposes and cross-moves to vacate his default on the ground that he was never served. Stanmore admits that he did not live in the apartment when service was purportedly effectuated and denies that he was served at his Alabama residence in 2013. He contends that the affidavit of service for this purported service is false and stresses the purported discrepancies between himself and the description contained in the affidavit of service.

In opposition to the cross-motion, plaintiff contends that Stanmore has not met his burden to rebut the affidavit of service. Plaintiff points out that Stanmore clearly knew about the instant action because plaintiff appeared in his bankruptcy case in 2014. Plaintiff complains that he is appearing at this late date despite knowing about this case for years.

In reply to the cross-motion, Stanmore argues that a traverse hearing is required because of the discrepancies between his personal appearance and the description on the affidavit of service. He contends that improper service is a reasonable excuse for his default.

Discussion

“Where, as here, a defendant seeks vacatur of a default under both CPLR 5015(a)(1) (excusable default) and CPLR 5015(a)(4) (lack of jurisdiction), the court should determine whether or not it has personal jurisdiction over the defendant before reaching the 5015(a)(1) ground, since the defendant's lack of a reasonable excuse is obviated if the court is without personal jurisdiction over defendant, and all subsequent proceedings would be rendered null and void” (Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v Jones, 139 AD3d 520, 522, 32 NYS3d 95 [1st Dept 2016] [internal quotations and citations omitted]). A “[p]laintiff’s affidavit of service constitute[s] prima facie evidence of proper service” (Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. v Javier, 2020 WL 201240 [1st Dept 2020]).

The affidavit of service submitted by plaintiff contends that service was effectuated on August 3, 2013 at an address in Huntsville, Alabama (NYSCEF Doc. No. 18). The process server claims that he served the defendant personally and described Stanmore as a black male, aged 45, between five feet eight inches and five feet eleven inches tall and between 175 and 199 pounds (id.). In his affidavit, Stanmore does not deny that he lives at the address in Huntsville, Alabama identified in the affidavit of service; instead, he asserts that in 2013, he was six feet two inches tall and weighed 225 pounds (NSYCEF Doc. No. 129, ¶ 18). He also describes his skin as “brown” instead of black (id.).

Here, the Court finds that Stanmore failed to rebut plaintiff’s affidavit of service demonstrating that service was effectuated at Stanmore’s residence in Alabama. Stanmore fails to contest that the address identified in the affidavit of service is not his residence nor does he claim that he was elsewhere on the day service was purportedly effectuated. His denial amounts to a discrepancy of a few inches and pounds and the difference between describing skin color as black versus brown. These are not sufficient to raise an issue of fact requiring a traverse hearing. Minor inaccuracies in a process server’s affidavit do not compel the Court to hold a hearing (PNC Bank, National Association v Bannister, 161 AD3d 1114, 1115-16, 77 NYS3d 452 [2d Dept 2018] [holding that “A minor discrepancy between the appearance of the person allegedly served and the description of the person served contained in the affidavit of service is generally insufficient to raise an issue of fact warranting a hearing”]).

Summary

The Court observes that in October 2014 plaintiff made a motion to lift the automatic stay imposed by Stanmore’s bankruptcy (NYSCEF Doc. No. 144). That motion details that plaintiff had a mortgage lien on the property that is the subject of this action (id. ¶ 3). That motion was denied and Stanmore was directed to make monthly payments of $2,525.83 to plaintiff (NYSCEF Doc. No. 145). Despite the motion practice in bankruptcy court, Stanmore waited until plaintiff moved for a judgment before seeking to vacate and claim he was never served.

In fact, Stanmore admits he learned about this case in 2016 (id. ¶ 14). Although he claims that he did not know what these documents were, the docket of Stanmore's bankruptcy filing makes clear he owns property all around the country (see NYSCEF Doc. No. 142). The Court questions why Stanmore waited until right before plaintiff moved for a judgment to move to vacate and dismiss. It may be that he was waiting until the statute of limitations became a potential issue before making the instant motion (although that issue is unclear given Stanmore's bankruptcy). In any event, the Court finds that service was proper, Stanmore failed to offer a reasonable excuse for his default or a meritorious defense.

Accordingly, it is hereby ORDERED and ADJUDGED the motion to confirm the referee's report and for a judgment of foreclosure and sale is granted and the cross-motion by defendant Stanmore is denied; and it is further

ORDERED that the mortgaged property described in the complaint and as described in this judgment, or such part thereof as may be sufficient to discharge the mortgage debt, the expense of sale and the costs of this action as provided in the RPAPL be sold within 90 days of this judgment, in one parcel, at a public auction at the New York County Courthouse located at 60 Centre Street, New York, New York on a Wednesday at 2:15 p.m. under the direction of Elaine Shay, who is appointed Referee for this purpose; and it is further
