DECISION

Defendant lender Eastern Funding LLC (Eastern Funding) moves to dismiss the second cause of action, the only one asserted it against it, in the complaint. Plaintiff-landlord opposes the motion.

In its second cause of action, plaintiff seeks a declaration that Eastern has no security interest in equipment in the premises leased by plaintiff to lessee KKSA Grocery.

The court finds that movant Eastern has satisfied its burden under CPLR 3211 (a)(1) by proffering a "Landlord and Lender Agreement" between plaintiff and Eastern dated April 13, 2016 (the Agreement), which states in Paragraph 1(A) that the Landlord "Subordinates to Lender any and all rights which Landlord now has or may have in and to those assets that are subject to Lender's perfected security interest (the "Equipment")."

Having contractually acknowledged Eastern Funding's superior security interest and there being no allegation in the complaint that the Agreement is not valid and enforceable, the defendant is entitled to a declaration in its favor. See Hillside Property Owners Association, Inc. v the Salanter Akiba Riverdale Academy, 45 AD2d 683, (1st Dept. 1974) ("However, since this was an action for declaratory judgment, it was error to dismiss the complaint and a declaration of the parties' rights should have been made.")
