MARY JANE TRAPP, P.J.

{¶1} On July 15, 2009, appellants/cross-appellees, Michael P. Hurley, Successor Administrator W.W.A. of the Estate of Betty Jean DiCillo, Amy Z. Vitt, Administratrix of the Estate of Nicholas A. Vitt, Deceased, and Amy Vitt, filed a notice of appeal from a June 16, 2009 entry from the Geauga County Court of Common Pleas. Appellee/cross-appellant, Melissa Reeves, filed her cross-appeal on July 20, 2009. Appellee, Gayla Amato, filed her cross-appeal on August 3, 2009.

{¶2} Under App.R. 4(B)(1), Ms. Amato had the option of filing her cross-appeal within ten days of appellants filing their notice of appeal, or the traditional thirty-day window created by App.R. 4(A). Pursuant to the foregoing rules, the latest that Ms. Amato could have filed her cross-appeal was July 27, 2009. The record in this matter indicates that Ms. Amato filed her cross-appeal with this court on August 3, 2009, seven days beyond the required time limit of App.R. 4(B)(1). The time requirements for filing a cross-appeal pursuant to App.R. 4(A) are mandatory and jurisdictional. Kaplysh v. Takieddine (1988), 35 Ohio St.3d 170. See, also, Kirkhart v. Keiper, 11th Dist. No. 2001-P-0069, 2002-Ohio-6472, at ¶2. As a result, this court cannot address the merits of Ms. Amato's untimely cross-appeal as it lacks jurisdiction under App.R. 4(A).

{¶3} Based upon the foregoing analysis, Ms. Amato's cross-appeal is hereby, sua sponte, dismissed for untimeliness. However, the appeal filed by appellants and the cross-appeal filed by Ms. Reeves can proceed.

{¶4} Ms. Amato's cross-appeal dismissed.
