v.)
)
LANE COUNTY ASSESSOR,)
)
Defendant.)	FINAL DECISION OF DISMISSAL¹

This matter came before the court on its own motion to dismiss following Plaintiff’s failure to appear at two telephone proceedings.

Plaintiff first failed to appear for a telephone hearing set for June 27, 2018. Plaintiff explained that he failed to appear at that hearing because the email notice went to his “junk mail” and requested that the court send hearing notices by mail. (Ptf’s Ltr at 1, Jul 12, 2018.) The court set a second hearing for July 30, 2018, and sent Plaintiff notice by mail. Plaintiff failed to appear for the second hearing. The court sent an Order to Show Cause on August 1, 2018, allowing Plaintiff 14 days to explain why his case should not be dismissed pursuant to Tax Court Rule-Magistrate Division 21, which allows the court to enforce its directives with sanctions including dismissal.

On August 20, 2018, the court received Plaintiff’s letter explaining that the second hearing “slipped by” while he was working on an IRS tax audit. (Ptf’s Ltr at 1, Aug 20, 2018.) Plaintiff explained that the audit was “near overwhelming and paperwork intensive,” although he stated it was “not an excuse” and apologized for missing the hearing. (See id.)

¹ This Final Decision of Dismissal incorporates without change the court’s Decision of Dismissal, entered September 6, 2018. The court did not receive a statement of costs and disbursements within 14 days after its Decision of Dismissal was entered. See Tax Court Rule–Magistrate Division (TCR–MD) 16 C(1).

The court appreciates Plaintiff's candor and sincerity in explaining his failure to appear for the hearing on July 30, 2018. Unfortunately, Plaintiff's explanation did not identify any extenuating circumstances or other adequate cause for the failure to appear. See, e.g., Jarmin v. Dept. of Rev., TC-MD 180089G, 2018 WL 3302753 (Jul 5, 2018) (dismissing appeal where taxpayers' representative missed a second hearing due, in part, to his "heavy post-tax-season workload"). The court dismisses this case without prejudice, meaning that Plaintiff is free to file a new appeal within the time permitted by statute. Now, therefore,

IT IS THE DECISION OF THIS COURT that Plaintiff's Complaint is dismissed.

Dated this ____ day of September 2018.
