NO. 14-22-00348-CV

AL GIOVANNI A/K/A ALI YAZDCHI, Appellant

V.

BOXER PROPERTIES FINANCIAL AND CURO HARWIN LLC, Appellees

On Appeal from the Co Civil Ct at Law No. 4
Harris County, Texas
Trial Court Cause No. 1178386

MEMORANDUM OPINION

This is an attempted appeal from an order of dismissal. Pursuant to chapter 11 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code, Al Giovanni a/k/a Ali Yazdchi has been declared a vexatious litigant and is therefore subject to the pre-filing order under section 11.101. Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code §§ 11.101, 11.103.

Under section 11.103(a), the clerk of this court may not file an appeal presented by a vexatious litigant subject to a pre-filing order under section 11.101 unless the litigant obtains an order from the local administrative judge permitting the filing or the appeal is from a pre-filing order entered under section 11.101 designating the person a vexatious litigant. Id. § 11.103(a) & (d). This is not an appeal from a pre-filing order entered under section 11.101.

Our record contains no indication appellant obtained permission to file this appeal. On July 26, 2022, we notified appellant that the appeal would be subject to dismissal without further notice unless appellant filed a copy of the order from the local administrative judge permitting the filing of this appeal. See id. § 11.103(a). In response, appellant filed an “order granting permission to file” signed by someone on February 16, 2022. It is unclear who signed the order, and the order does not state that appellant has permission to file this appeal. Because appellant has not provided sufficient proof that he obtained permission to file this appeal from the local administrative judge, we must dismiss this appeal.

The appeal is ordered dismissed.
